Planning Commissioners Flay Resignation Request

Supervisors Deny 'Spoils System' Claim

Asking appointive county commissioners to resign is not a form of the "spoils system," four members of the Marin County Board of Supervisors declared today during a radio discussion.

"I would say it is the toils system rather than the spoils system," Supervisor Chairman Peter H. Behr remarked. He noted that appointed commissioners serve without pay and are subjected to constant criticism. "If I had a friend I wanted to reward, the last thing I would do is appoint them to one of the commissions," said Behr.

RE-BROADCASTING DUE

The question was one of several fired at the supervisors during KTIM "Marin Sounding Board" program, moderated by Kitty Oppenheimer. The discussion will be re-broadcast from a tape recording at 12:30 p.m. Sunday.

Supervisors Behr, William H. Gnoss and Byron W. Leydecker, who voted to ask appointed commissioners to resign, defended the move as justified.

"It is inconceivable that supervisors can effectively represent the people who elected them if they did not have appointive members of their own choosing," said Leydecker.

Ernest N. Kettenhofen, the lone supervisor who voted against asking commissioners to resign said the request for resignations en masse would demoralize even those who were reappointed. He said he prefers to have the supervisors vote to remove unwanted commission members individually.

JOINS DENIAL

However, Kettenhofen joined in denying that the request for mass resignation of appointive commissions is a form of the "spoils system."

The fifth supervisor, Thomas T. Storer, was delayed by business and did not appear on the panel.

The Marin Grand Jury's recommendation that the office of county coroner and administrator be combined with the county sheriff evoked several questions from radio listeners.

Gnoss said the matter will probably be considered at budget time. The others agreed that the possibility merits further study.

One questioner wanted to know why the present courthouse and its park-like atmosphere could not be retained in San Rafael.

The supervisors said the courthouse is "bursting at the seams" and cannot continue to provide enough courtroom space, parking for jurors, and adequate jail facilities.

Board Charged With 'Lack Of Experience'

By RICHARD LYTTLE

A majority of the Marin County Planning Commission today appeared to be vigorously at variance with the board of supervisors' demand for blanket resignations.

Commissioner Henry C. Hankins of Inverness Park declared he did not intend to resign. Commissioner Edward K. Wachsman of San Rafael called the move nothing more than "political vindictiveness" and the start of "patronage and the spoils system."

CANDIDATE AIDE

Both Hankins and Wachsman opposed winning candidates in their supervisorial districts. Hankins was campaign manager for George H. Ludy, defeated at the polls by Thomas T. Storer. Wachsman worked for John F. McInnis, defeated by Byron W. Leydecker.

Hankins told the Independent-Journal he had begun to write out his resignation Tuesday evening after learning of the board's decision to demand resignations from all members of the planning, parks and recreation and personnel commissions.

He said phone calls interrupted his letter writing. Friends were calling to urge him to stay on the board.

"I can't let these people down," Hankins declared. He decided not to write the letter.

Hankins was appointed by Ludy two years ago. His term expires April 20, 1967.

NO FAVOR

Both Hankins and Wachsman consider their views on local politics as something separate from planning.

Wachsman declared the board of supervisors is "exhibiting a general lack of experience on local government." He said it was doing voters no favor to have commissioners who think just like the supervisors. "An objective person wants someone with him whose views differ."

"Of course, the thing that disturbs me is that I do not know whether his (Leydecker's) views and mine agree on planning or not," Wachsman said.

"Mr Leydecker has never attended a planning commission meeting and has never discussed planning with me."

Wachsman, appointed three years ago on the late supervisor

ROBERT N. THOMPSON

Air Force Vet Accused As Spy For Russ

WASHINGTON (AP) — FBI agents seized a 29-year-old New Yorker today and charged him with conspiring to transmit U.S. military secrets to the Soviet Union.

FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover identified him as Robert N. Thompson, a self-employed fuel oil distributor. He said FBI investigation revealed that Thompson was recruited into a Soviet intelligence operation while serving with the U.S. Air Force in Berlin in 1957.

Hoover said Thompson, a resident of Bay Shore, N.Y., conspired with Kudashkian and other unnamed individuals in the espionage plot.

The plot, Hoover said, provided for the payment for various sums of money to Thompson and involved the use of code names, false identities and codes, ciphers and other types of secret writing in order to communicate.

Hoover said the espionage efforts "were particularly concerned with furnishing information relating to military equipments and installations, missile sites, code books and intelligence and counterintelligence activities of the United States government."

Care Of Elderly Tops List

WASHINGTON (UPI)— President Johnson asked Congress today to approve a multi-billion dollar war against disease and the problems of old age in order to provide "the best health care for all Americans."

Johnson placed top priority on legislation to provide hospital care for the elderly financed through Social Security taxes levied on workers and their employers. He called this a matter of "utmost urgency."

OTHER STEPS

But he also proposed a series of other steps to improve the nation's health, including a new federal-state program to pay medical and dental bills for children in needy families and government aid in meeting the basic operating costs of medical and dental schools.

Administration officials said Johnson's proposals would cost $262 million in the year starting next July and more than $800 million in the following 12 months.

Officials said the entire package, including a five-year program to establish regional medical centers to combat heart disease, cancer and stroke, would cost several billion dollars spread over this decade.

DEFRAY COST

To defray the cost of the medical plan for retired persons, withholding taxes imposed on workers and their employers would be funneled into a new trust fund.

The tax would be levied on the first $5,600 of a worker's pay and would start out next year at three-tenths of 1 per cent for both the worker and his employer. The rate would rise to 45-100ths of 1 per cent for each by 1969.

The President, citing a high rate of illness among the nation's 75 million children and youth, also called for federai aid to help poverty - stricken families pay the doctor bills for their youngsters.

The plan for helping with the medical bills of needy children would be similar to the existing Kerr-Mills program for helping needy aged persons pay medical expenses. Aides said $100 million would be earmarked for the first year of the new pro-

Mount Tam Gets An Inch Of Snow

Snow fell on Mount Tamalpais and lesser hills of Marin early today as a six-day storm came to an end.

Dawn was clear, bright, sparkling and a little chilly.

More than one inch of snow fell on Mount Tamalpais, spreading down to Mountain Home Inn on Panoramic Highway. Low hills west of Novato also were crowned with snow at dawn.

Airmen at the station had to walk part way to work today because the roadway at top was too slick for cars. Snowballs began flying and snowmen started taking shape soon after sunrise as children of servicemen at the station woke up to find the snow.

Today's clear weather followed five consecutive days of rain, strong winds, flooding and power blackouts in Marin. Fair skies may continue. The Weather Bureau predicted occasional showers tonight with clear weather and colder temperatures tomorrow.

The cold weather arrived in Marin before dawn, temperatures dropped to 33 in Tamalpais Valley and 34 at Woodacre and Novato.

More hard rain yesterday afternoon brought a peak 24-hour reading of 1.5 inches in Fairfax as of 8 a.m. today.

Despite today's clear weather, cleanup of mud slides and tree falls was still in progress.

Girard Avenue in Sausalito was opened at 3 p.m. yesterday.

HE SERVED TIME, AND THEN SOME

A 32-year-old San Quentin conservation camp inmate was trucked out of devastated Eel River flood country in a 52-vehicle convoy over back roads yesterday so he could start his parole, held up for almost two weeks by the floods.

The California Highway Patrol has been leading the convoys from Garberville out of the flood country for about a week, said Lt. Vernon Sendrick, administrator of High Rock conservation camp.

Sendrick took Paul Kemp, serving time for robbery, out in the convoy so he could begin a parole which should have started Christmas day.

Battle Flares On Car Smog Control Law

SACRAMENTO (UPI)— A major dispute erupted in the legislature today over the state's smog control laws, already confusing many of the state's 10 million motorists.

State Sen. Randolph Collier, D-Yreka, the white-haired chairman of the Senate Transportation Committee, denounced the present law as "not workable."

He said it probably should be rewritten entirely—and soon.

But State Sen. Thomas M. Rees, D-Los Angeles, whose county suffers most from smog, fired back that he would "fight to the death" any action to junk the law, passed by the 1960 legislature.

And he made public his own plan to modify the law and require that all used cars not now equipped with a crankcase anti-

Garbage Dump May Become Civic Center In Larkspur

City Mgr. Ronald E. Piper showed the Larkspur City Council last night a brightly colored layout for eventual development of what now is the county dump but may some day be a Larkspur civic center.

The proposal calls for construction of a city hall, library and recreation center, along with two baseball diamonds, tennis courts, a children's play area and a small craft harbor with 83 berths. Also included would be about eight acres to remain as marsh for wildfowl.

"I commend you," Mayor Neil R. Brixon told Piper. "You not only draw, but you dream."

Piper admitted he had no idea how the project would be financed, but said approval was needed to determine which areas should be filled by the dump operation. He said the first step soon would be to plant trees in certain areas.

Part of the area would be filled with mud from a canal which must be dredged, Piper said. This area would be used to support the recreation building.

He said the dump fill would be less stable, but could support the city hall and library with careful engineering. He suggested the library be made round, because new construction techniques allow round roofs to be built with very light material.

The council quickly approved the basic plan, which will set limits on future dump fill operations in the area, expected to be completed soon.

Storm Swipes At Southland

LOS ANGELES (AP)—A hit-run rainstorm dampened Southern California with fickle showers today, touching off traffic mishaps.

In one, a tree washed onto the Santa Ana Freeway caused a five-vehicle pile-up that injured one man seriously.

California Skies Bright After Three-Week Siege

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — A beautifully bright sun in a cloudless sky today cheered Northern California residents after a three week siege of storming rains, mountain blizzards, and flood disaster.

"The stormy period is now ending," said Forecaster L. B. Rasey.

His terse and happy prediction for all but mountain areas read: "Fair tonight and Friday."

Blizzard drifts still closed Interstate 80 across Donner Summit. But the storm will fade into snow flurries by tonight, Rasey said.

A low pressure center that had hung off the Washington coast for three weeks spinning off a parade of storm fronts finally moved inland last night, Rasey reported.

He said the center was charted over Idaho and Nevada this morning.

Strong winds and snow lingered in the Sierra Nevada where hundreds of motorists were stranded overnight by the blocking of Interstate 80.

In battered and debris - covered Humboldt County, several hundred residents of the Eel and Mad River districts re-

A REAL TWISTER

The first test model of a new ton-and-a-half cargo carrier for military use is demonstrated today at the Michigan Army Missile Plant near Detroit. Consisting of a four-wheeled tractor unit and a two-wheeled carrier, the odd-looking cargo hauler is built of aluminum, can travel rough terrain, is amphibious, and is light enough to be air-dropped by parachute or carried by helicopter.

WIRE NEWS BRIEFS From Everywhere

Kerr Explains Why Strong Out

EL CERRETO (AP)—University of California President Clark Kerr says the political campus upheaval required that the weary Berkeley chancellor be replaced with a fresh face.

Kerr explained the removal of Chancellor Edward W. Strong and the reasons for his replacement by the 43-year-old Martin Meyerson in an interview yesterday.

"It had become apparent to the regents and to Ed that he was just too weary to continue on. He was tired out and just wanted to get away."

Kerr added that he expected Strong, 63, to return to duty "as chancellor" after he has rested.

Kerr said Meyerson was selected because the regents saw a "fresh person in a situation which seemed to need a fresh face."

Ruby Legal Baggage

DALLAS (UPI)—The legal baggage of the Jack Ruby case—600 pounds of it — was ceremoniously trucked out of the Dallas courthouse yesterday, starting a journey that may take it eventually to the U.S. Supreme Court. The legal documents that formed the basis of appeals by Ruby's lawyers headed for Austin, the state capital.

Plastic Bag Kills Girl, 3

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP) — A girl, 3, pulled a plastic bag over her head and suffocated after her mother had knotted both ends to prevent just such a tragedy.

Police said the girl, Perri Parsons, apparently had pulled the bag out of a waste basket yesterday.

King Of Norway's Plane Can't Land

TEHRAN, Iran (AP) — King Olav of Norway circled Tehran's airport in his royal plane for 65 minutes today, unable to land because of a heavy snowfall and poor visibility.

The Shah of Iran ordered the plane diverted to Beirut, Lebanon. King Olav, who was coming to Iran for a week's state visit, will stay in Beirut until the weather clears.

India Turns About On U.S. Polaris Subs

NEW DELHI, India (AP) — In a startling about-face, India has quietly accepted the stationing of a U.S. submarine armed with Polaris nuclear missiles in Asian waters.

There have been a few worried comments about "escalation" of the U.S. confrontation with Communist China, but the general Indian reaction has been one of relief that the United States is bringing up the big guns.

Just eight months ago, India applauded loudly when the late Prime Minister Nehru rose in Parliament to "express regret" in biting sarcasm that American surface warships armed with nuclear weapons were "wandering about" the Indian Ocean.

The change in outlook is a direct result of Communist China's explosion of an atomic bomb six months later.

Many Indians consider Communist China's nuclear debut a stunning propaganda defeat for their government in the battle for prestige among African and Asian nations. There is fear that Peking will attempt nuclear blackmail of India.

SHE AWAKES TO FIND SON, 2, AIMING GUN

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Mrs. Carol Duby told sheriff's deputies that she awoke to what sounded like a revolver being cocked. That's what it was.

Her son Gerry, 2, was sitting beside her on the bed, pointing the .22-caliber revolver at her head, she told officers.

Mrs. Duby, 22, said she instinctively moved her hand in front of her face and simultaneously the gun discharged. The slug hit the palm of her hand and burrowed to a point just below the elbow. Officers said she was hospitalized after the incident last night, and later reported to be in good condition.

Mrs. Duby said her son apparently found the gun in its hiding place beneath the mattress.

State Warns Of Sticker Confusion

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — California's usually staid Department of Motor Vehicles has warned of some of the pitfalls and advised continuing at least one mistake when applying 1965 license decals.

Then they added: "Last year, thousands of vehicle owners put the stickers in the wrong spots."

The most common mistake was applying the stickers in the upper right-hand corner. But, says the department, one feminine car owner stuck hers to a frying pan and another to an iron by trying to use heat to affix the stickers.

Congress Greeted By Many Bills

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congress barely opened its doors and the bills spilled in by the hundreds.

Measures to enhance "the nation's anadromous fish" swam side by side with those that would make Daylight Saving Time mandatory, would direct the Navy to name its next cruiser the Brooklyn, would change the date of Memorial Day, would give veterans with wooden legs or arms a clothing allowance, would consider putting the nation on the metric system of weights and measures — and more. Many more.

No matter how odd sounding or what wrong the legislation is designed to right, each measure is important to someone and likely will get a hearing of some kind — even if brief.

Some of the bills have gone through the legislative mill before and been tossed aside only to return again.

A bill introduced by Rep. Robert McClory, R-Ill., is such a one. It would provide for a study of the pros and cons of adopting the metric system.

He argued that if the metric system were adopted "it would be much easier to relate our technology with other parts of the world."

There are a couple of measures asking to make Columbus Day a legal holiday, and Rep. Richard Fulton, D-Tenn., is trying to arrange a three-day holiday every spring by changing the date of Memorial Day from May 31 to the last Monday in May.

Viet Cong Reportedly Open New Offensive

SAIGON (UPI)—A strong Viet Cong Communist force today was reported to have launched another major offensive in the Binh Gia area south of Saigon. A U.S. spokesman said Vietnamese bombers and fighter planes were ordered to attack.

The spokesman said intelligence reports indicated the guerrilla force "may be as high as 2,000."

The Communists were said to be on the move in a heavy jungle about 35 miles southeast of Saigon and only 5 miles north of Binh Gia, scene of the longest battle of the war last week.

The reported new Red offensive came as the government's Vietnam press agency said that the rebels had been ordered to launch a "three front offensive" around Saigon. A U.S. military spokesman said yesterday there were indications the Viet Cong was stepping up the war.

The government agency quoted "authoritative sources" as saying that captured Red documents called for offensives in politics, subversion and on the battlefield.

It said the instructions were distributed at a meeting of Communist agents in charge of agitation and propaganda in the Saigon region.

U.S. Headquarters declined comment on Communist claims that American and South Vietnamese warships shelled North Viet Nam.

The claim was made in a Peking broadcast early this morning.

The Communists said the ships fired on Mui Doc about 1 a.m. yesterday.

The U.S. Military Assistance Command had no comment.

The Communist broadcast offered no details as to targets or damage, but it said Viet Cong army units returned fire and the "warships fled away."

Red China said the ships entered North Vietnamese territorial waters Tuesday night. The Communist made a similar charge on Jan. 3.

The Communist charges followed reports from a U.S. military spokesman that the Red guerrillas fighting the government in South Viet Nam may be intensifying the ground war.

San Rafael Park Fund Switch Recommended

San Rafael Recreation and Parks Commission voted last night to ask council to let it spend $39,000 on land for new parks in Terra Linda rather than use the money as earmarked in its budget for development of Freitas Memorial Park.

Deeding of the land for Freitas Park has been held up temporarily by legal complications, said recreation director Joseph D. Rodota, and this has held up plans for its development.

The commission decided to recommend that the council transfer the money into its acquisition fund so it can buy two four-acre sites for parks, one next to Don Timeteo School and the other at the end of De La Guerra Road.

The sites have already been studied by the commission and found suitable, said Rodota.

The commission re-affirmed its recommendation that a amphitheater and dance platform be built on the site of the present tennis court in Gerstle Park despite objections of neighbors about noise, parking overload on surrounding streets, and destruction of the existing tennis court.

Commissioners felt the noise problem could be contained by acoustical engineering and a 10:30 p.m. curfew, parking problems could be handled by not scheduling big events in the park simultaneously.

The existing tennis court would cost too much to rebuild, commissioners decided in November, when they recommended that the city share the cost of the amphitheater with members of the family of Cesare Bettini, who was park caretaker for many years.

The Marin Folk Dance Council has offered to assist in construction of the dance platform.

Christmas Green Burning Delayed For Belvedere

The traditional 12th Night tree burning in Belvedere was rained out last night. It will become the 16th night tree burning on Sunday.

Ceremonies will begin at 7 p.m. Sunday at Lagoon Road and Maybridge Circle, with Belvedere Mayor Merritt K. Ruddock opening the event. Then if the skies are clear, the trees will be burned.

"We'll burn 'em if it takes until the Fourth of July," said Charles Auerbach, chairman of the sponsoring Belvedere Recreation Commission.

The Epiphany pageant and burning of greens afterwards came off as scheduled at Holy Innocents Church in Corte Madera. The greens had been gathered for several days on the square opposite the church. They burned brightly in a light rain.

The first Christmas party in the White House, Mrs. John Adams wrote, "was a frost." Twenty cords of wood were burned in 13 fireplaces in a futile effort to dry out the damp walls. The shivering guests stayed only briefly.

WARNING NEEDED—The sign says "ice" and it meant it this morning as ice coated Ridge Road on Mount Tamalpais, where snow fell during the night. Snow also whitened the tops of some lesser Marin hills until the sun shining from the first completely clear sky in more than three weeks drove it away. (Independent-Journal photo) turned to homes they had fled Tuesday.

At least two transmountain buses and dozens of cars were marooned on 7,200-foot-high Donner Summit last night as a howling blizzard reduced visibility to zero.

Authorities said the road would remain closed for the night and possibly through today.

The highway patrol at Truckee said it believed all stranded motorists had been taken to Truckee, Verdi or Reno.

U.S. 50 remained opened yesterday but was closed this morning in California. There was one-way traffic today over Spooner summit in Nevada.

The U.S. Weather Bureau said there were no traveler warnings in the Sierra for the first time in over a week.

SMOG

smog device can remain unequipped until the car is sold or traded.

Meanwhile, Assemblyman Leroy Greene, D-Sacramento, took two separate routes to fight smog control devices: the courts and the legislature.

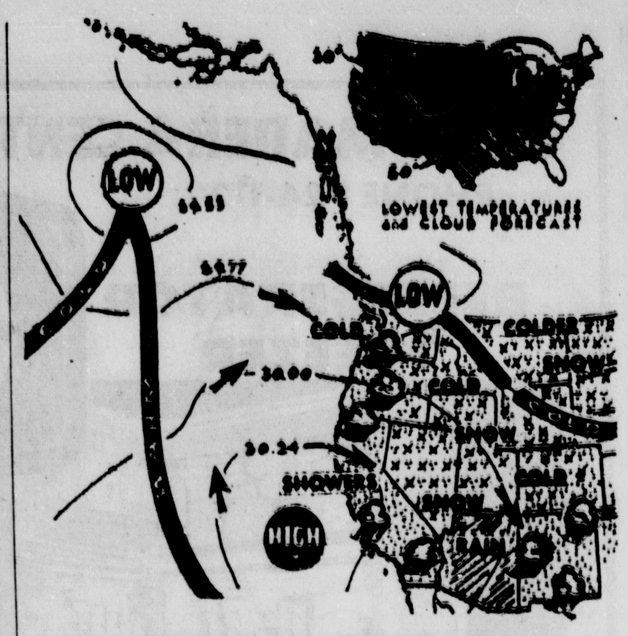

Green announced he would file a suit to prevent immediate enforcement of a requirement that most used cars be equipped with a smog control device. He also introduced a bill (AB116) to spare three million used car owners the "expense and annoyance" of buying smog devices this year.

Collier and Assemblyman Tom Carrell, D-San Fernando, called a joint meeting for next Tuesday of Collier's Senate Transportation Factfinding Committee and the Assembly Interim Transportation and Commerce Committee, which Carrell heads.

The smog control laws have been under attack since about Jan. 1 of last year, when they first began affecting motorists.

Officials of the Motor Vehicles Pollution Control Board, created under the 1960 act to approve devices and see that they are installed, have argued that the devices work well and that complaints result from installations by untrained mechanics.

But only last month the board and the Department of Motor Vehicles found it necessary to tell motorists to ignore pink cards and smog control affidavits mailed with 1965 vehicle registration forms.

TONIGHT'S FORECAST

Showers will prevail along the Pacific Coast and snow is forecast for the North and Central Rockies and the Northern and Central Plains tonight. Occasional rain will fall in the Southern Rockies. Cold weather is slated for the North and Central Rockies and the North and Central Plains. Minimum temperatures: San Francisco, 42, and Los Angeles, 44. (UPI Telephoto Map)

RESIGN

Walter R. Castro's nomination, is serving a term that runs until April 20, 1966.

Commissioners George Scott of Mill Valley and Niels Schultz Jr. of Greenbrae also sided with Wachsman and Hankins on the issue. Scott said he had also received calls and "hated to let down his friends."

He was appointed by former Supervisor William D. Fusselman as a commissioner at large 10 years ago. His term runs until April 20 of this year. He said he did not feel the board should have taken the action it did.

Schultz said the action will destroy the continuity on the commission. "It's a step back about 50 years," he said.

"Asking everybody to resign so they can put their hooks into a couple is not being exactly straight-forward," Schultz declared. He said he had no idea whether he would be re-appointed. "Who knows what they intend to do?" he asked.

Schultz was also nominated by Fusselman. His term also runs until April 20, 1966.

In the minority on the issue were Commissioners Felix M. Warburg of Ross, Dr. William F. Upton of San Rafael and Eugene R. Trombley of Novato.

Both Warburg and Trombley thought the board was acting properly. Warburg named to the commission originally by then-Supervisor Vera Schultz, is serving a term that runs until April 20, 1966.

He was confident he would be re-appointed.

Trombley was named by Supervisor William A. Gnoss six months ago to a term that runs to April 20, 1968. He did not know whether he would be re-appointed, but would be glad to continue serving.

Dr. Upton declared he was not too concerned with the board's action since his term ends this April. He said, however, that the board must keep some current commissioners to assure continuity. "I will comply with the request," he said. He also was named to the commission by Castro.

Members of the Marin County Personnel Commission nearly all agreed to comply with the request and endorsed the board's action. However, Commission Chairman Julius H. Selinger of Sleepy Hollow appeared to have reservations.

He said he would soon call a meeting of commissioners to draft a formal statement on the board's action. Selinger, an original member of the commission when it was formed 13 years ago, was nominated by Fusselman. His present term runs until Feb. 22, 1968.

L. C. Brooks of San Rafael, serving a term to run until Feb. 22 of this year, said he would comply with the request. "That's all we can do."

Eugene R. Lang of Novato, serving a term that runs until Feb. 22, 1966, said he "saw no point in resisting it."

Miss Margaret M. Lucas of Tiburon, on a term running until Feb. 22, 1966, said she was not going to fight the request.

David R. Burbank of Fallon, whose term runs until Feb. 22, 1967, could not be reached for comment.

There appeared to be little resistance also among those members of the Parks and Recreation Commission who could be reached today.

Gibbs H. Lawson of Dillon Beach, on a term which expires Feb. 3, declared the resignations "are a good idea." Mrs. Charles P. Davies of Novato, whose term runs until Feb. 3 of next year, declared the action reflects "a very wholesome attitude."

Commissioner James M. Fletcher of San Rafael, serving a term that runs until Feb. 2, 1967, said he had to know more about the matter before he could comment.

Mrs. Adele J. Alpers of San Rafael, on a term running until Feb. 3, 1966, and Mrs. William B. Newman of Tiburon, on a term running until Feb. 3, 1967, were not available for comment.

The board's action had one interesting side effect. George W. Blackwell of Mill Valley announced he has resigned two county posts, neither of which were covered by the board's action. He said he has resigned from the Local Government Coordinating Committee and the Marin County Flood Control Zone 3 board.

"I thoroughly agree with the board of supervisors' ruling," Blackwell said.

Wallet, $130 Lost

Sharon Kay Vande Steeg of 865 Las Gallinas Avenue, Apt. 3, San Rafael, lost a wallet containing $130 in cash yesterday morning somewhere at Northgate Shopping Center, she told police.

Officer Does His Duty Even When Off Work

He proved it yesterday as he pursued a hit-run driving suspect, on foot, through pouring rain down Mission Street in San Francisco.

With the help of a motorist, Topham ran Robert Langham, 21, of San Francisco to the curb, arrested him and turned him over to police.

Topham, who lives at 11 South Knoll Road, Mill Valley, had just emerged from a nearby building. He ran down the middle of Mission Street in pursuit of Langham's car.

Robert Wiggs, 29, of San Francisco, who also saw the pedestrian hit, turned the corner from Sixth Street and drove in pursuit.

"Stop that car!" Topham yelled at him as Wiggs drew alongside.

Wiggs forced Langham's car to the curb near the Chronicle Building at Fifth and Mission streets, and Topham took over.

The pedestrian, Mion, lay in a crumpled heap at Sixth and Mission. He suffered fractures of facial bones and a possible concussion.

San Francisco police booked Langham at city prison on suspicion of felony hit-run driving, violation of pedestrian right of way, going through a red light, no driver's license, no registration on the car, and open bottles of liquor in the car.

Topham had one regret about the incident: "The rain wrecked a brand new press in my suit," he said.

Salesman Slugged In Marin City

A San Francisco insurance salesman was in fair condition in Marin General Hospital today after being bashed over the head in Marin City last night in an apparent attempt to rob him.

Peter John Corboff, 44, was found semi-conscious at the foot of an enclosed staircase at 419 Drake Avenue about 7:30 p.m. yesterday by two Marin City residents. Sheriff's officers said he had been struck with a blunt instrument, possibly a baseball bat or a length of pipe, but $158 cash and a $20 gift certificate from a clothing store were still in his pockets.

Inspector Harold J. Sleezer speculated Corboff was struck with intention to rob him, but the approach of the two residents, Walter Lee Jr., 730 Drake Avenue, and a man identified as Phaterral Green probably frightened the assailants off.

Corboff, unable to give details other than to say he was struck from behind, was taken to the hospital by ambulance. Corboff was cut and bruised on the head. He was conscious today but was being kept in the hospital's intensive care unit for close observation.

Officers said Corboff was believed to be on insurance sale or collection matters when he was attacked.

He is a native of New York and veteran of six years in the Air Force, having served in West Berlin, Labrador, and several posts in the United States.

While in the Air Force, Hoover said, Thompson was convicted by a summary court-martial of leaving his appointed place of duty, illegally obtaining a revolver and being unfit for performance of duties through indulgence in intoxicating liquor.

After Thompson's discharge from the Air Force in December 1958, Hoover said, he lived in Detroit until 1961, when he moved to New York.

During this entire period, Hoover said, Thompson continued to conspire to participate in Soviet espionage activities in the United States.

On Capitol Hill, Johnson won immediate support for his far-reaching program. The only reservations came over the controversial health plan for the elderly, generally known as medicare.

In a wide-ranging message, Johnson also requested:

—A step-up in the program to rehabilitate disabled persons aimed at restoring 145,000 persons annually in useful work.

—Federal funds to improve services for the mentally retarded, increasing hospital modernization and start a new program of loans and guarantees for loans to help voluntary associations build group medical practice centers.

—Extension for five years after mid-1966 of federal health research programs with a greater emphasis on specialized research of a national or regional nature.

—Laws to bring production and distribution of so - called "goof-ball" pills — barbiturates, amphetamines and other psycho-toxic drugs—under more effective control; also legislation to require adequate labeling of hazardous substances and safety regulation of cosmetics and therapeutic devices.

Burglar Ransacks Sausalito Bedroom

A burglar entered the home of Ervin Bell at 27 Glen Court, Sausalito, through an open bedroom window sometime yesterday and stole $15 in change and an antique silver ring.

Bell reported the burglary at 8 p.m. yesterday. Police said that Bell's bedroom was ransacked and a piggy bank, broken open, was found outside the home.

OBITUARIES

Mrs. Hazel Proebsting Dies At 75

Mrs. Hazel Proebsting, 75, found unconscious in her San Rafael apartment on New Years Eve, died today at a local hospital without regaining consciousness.

An autopsy will be conducted, said Asst. Coroner William C. Bradley.

Mrs. Proebsting, who lived alone at 1009 B Street, had been under a doctor's care for diabetes and a heart condition for several years. She was found on the floor of her apartment by a friend, Hazel B. Manning, who has been taking care of her for the past few years.

Mrs. Proebsting was a retired carpet sewer who had worked 10 years for a San Francisco furniture company before moving to San Rafael in 1958. She came to California from her native Wisconsin 57 years ago.

Surviving are three sisters, Mrs. Else Wendler of San Rafael, Mrs. Esther Detels of San Anselmo and Mrs. Katie Malone of Sausalito, and a brother, Donald A. Buckley of Novato.

Funeral will be held Monday at 10 a.m. at Chapel of the Hills, San Anselmo. Burial will be in Golden Gate National Cemetery, San Bruno.

JOSEPH JACUZZI

ALBANY (UPI) — Joseph Jacuzzi, one of the founders of Jacuzzi Bros. Inc., died yesterday after a long illness. He was 73.

Jacuzzi was one of seven brothers and six sisters who came to the United States at the beginning of this century and, in 1919, founded the firm that bears his name. The company eventually became the nation's largest manufacturer of jet water circulators.

Survivors include Jacuzzi's wife, Rena; a son, Aldo, who manages the firm's Little Rock, Ark., plant; and three brothers and five sisters.

Funeral services will be held tomorrow in El Cerrito.

ANNA MORRIS

Anna Morris, 85, resident of a local rest home during her four-year stay in Marin, died there yesterday after a long illness.

Private services for Miss Morris will be held at Keaton's Mortuary in San Rafael tomorrow. Inurnment will be at Chapel of Memories in Oakland.

FRANK DELAPLANE

KANSAS CITY (AP)—Frank H. Delaplane Sr., father of Stanton Delaplane, formerly of Kentfield, nationally syndicated columnist for the San Francisco Chronicle, died at St. Luke's Hospital yesterday.

The elder Delaplane was a native of Lathrop, Mo., and had sold life insurance in Kansas City for 20 years. He leaves his wife and two sons, Stanton and Frank H. Delaplane Jr. of Reno.

MOUNT TAMALPAIS CEMETERY in the Heart of our County

Marin pioneers chose a site in the heart of our county as a final resting place for their families. Today this location—at the west end of Fifth Avenue in San Rafael—is still convenient to all Marin points.

Marinites who choose Mount Tamalpais do so with the assurance that its beauty will grow with the years. The interest from a quarter-million dollar endowment fund—twice the legal requirement—is dedicated to the constant care and improvement of this 57-acre site.

Perhaps—like many Marin families—you wish to make your own final arrangements to spare others difficult decisions. If so, we invite your inquiry or a personal visit.

Drake's, McClure's Beaches May Be Given To National Seashore

Drake's and McClure's beaches, now owned by Marin County, may be given to the Point Reyes National Seashore as a gift.

Federal officials discussed the possibility with two Marin County planning commissioners yesterday after the commission canceled its meeting because of a lack of a quorum.

Chairman Gibbs H. Lawson and commissioner James M. Fletcher were present. Mrs. George Alpers, who had a conflicting meeting; Mrs. Charles P. Davies, who had not yet returned from a cruise, and Mrs. William B. Newman, whose mother is ill, were absent.

Recreation Director Kelvin J. Nelson recommended the commission change its previous decision that the federal government should pay for the beaches.

Fred Bennewies, superintendent of the National Seashore, and Thomas Kornelis, National Parks Service realty officer, said funds for purchase were not available and asked that the beaches be turned over to the National Seashore at no cost.

Nelson said there has been difficulty establishing the market value of the beaches because of deed restrictions, and even if market value were established "they have not funds."

The beach areas are scheduled for early development, Nelson said. Also, federal takeover would relieve the county of the cost of maintaining them.

Lawson said decision whether the federal government should pay lies with the county board of supervisors.

Bennewies gave a progress report on the development of the National Seashore. "We are now about to complete the access road to Point Reyes Beach," he said. Plans are being prepared for development of Limantour Spit including parking areas and picnic sites.

The two commissioners discussed alleviating parking and sanitary problems at Bolinas with Dennis Cuyler, president of the North Point Surfing Club, and Melton Ferris of San Rafael, who owns property in Bolinas.

Lawson said the commission has potential solutions to both problems and requested the two men to return for discussion at the next commission meeting, next Wednesday at 2 p.m.

Stephen H. Kauffman, attorney for the Strawberry Recreation District, urged the commission to recommend that a seven-acre tidelot area at Harbor Point, owned by the county, be transferred to the recreation district. This matter will be on the commission agenda Wednesday.

Collision On 101 Hurts Novato Woman

Rebecca Mastorakos, 54, of 1221 Vallejo Street, Novato, was reported in good condition with a head injury today at Novato General Hospital, following a two-car collision at 8:30 p.m. yesterday on Highway 101 near De Long Avenue in Novato.

The California Highway Patrol reported a small foreign car driven south on the highway by S/5C Craig C. Wier, Two Rock Ranch, Sonoma County, drifted onto soft ground in the divider strip on a slight curve and slid in front of an auto driven by Steve A. Mastorakos, 28, of 7349 Redwood Highway, Novato, in which the injured woman was a passenger.

Belvedere Slope Control Pending

The Belvedere City Council may consider passing an interim slope policy and minor subdivision ordinance at its meeting at 8 p.m. today at the community hall.

City Mgr. William L. Cavalli will recommend that the council pass an ordinance which would tighten controls on division of land into fewer than five parcels, and that it set a tighter slope policy.

The city planning commission is on record as favoring both moves but is still studying details for the recommendation it will make to the council for long-term slope policy.

Ways, Means Members Named

WASHINGTON (AP) — House Democrats picked three new members today for one of the most important committees of Congress, Ways and Means.

By prior agreement, the unanimous choices for the jobs were Reps. Phil M. Landrum of Georgia, Richard Fulton of Tennessee and Charles A. Vanik of Ohio. There was no contest for the openings, as there was on a previous occasion when Landrum lost out, even though he had the backing of House Democratic leaders.

All three are backers of the kind of health care for the aged President Johnson wants.

...and now let's talk about some other Ford surprises...

Test-drive a Ford—and you're in for some surprises. Leading acoustical consultants conducted tests in which 1965 Fords (Galaxie 500 Sedan, XL and LTD Hardtops) with 289-cu. in. V-8 engines rode quieter than a Rolls-Royce. These tests were certified by the U. S. Auto Club.

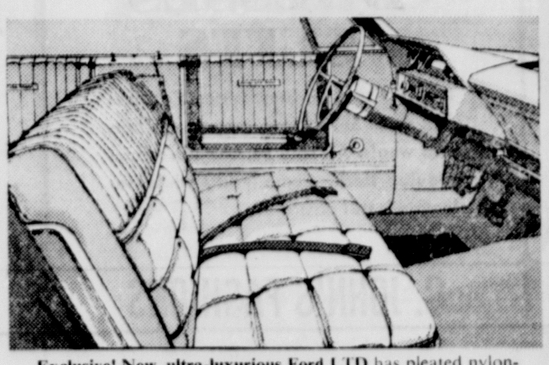

When you feel a 1965 Ford in action—with the strongest Ford body ever . . . a revolutionary new frame that "tunes out" vibration . . . new ultrasoft coil spring suspension —you're bound to be impressed. But the ride is only one of Ford's surprises . . .

■ New swept-back instrument panel adds five inches extra knee room. ■ Transmission tunnel is lower for extra foot room. ■ Trunk has more usable space than ever—holds four 2-suiters standing upright.

■ Handy new "reversible" ignition key—works either side up. ■ Hot, but hushed, 289-cu. in. V-8 is standard equipment in XL and LTD models. ■ Smooth, thrifty all-new Big Six in other models—the most powerful standard Six offered by any car in Ford's class. ■ V-8 options to 425 hp.

■ All Ford automatic transmissions have three speeds, not two as in some competing cars. Result: you pass faster, shift smoother, save on gas. ■ Fully synchronized manual transmissions—you can even shift down to first without clashing gears. ■ New Ford LTD 4-door hardtops have 10 courtesy lights, 5 ash trays. Upholstery treated to keep its beauty with Scotchgard® stain repellent. ■ Luxuries you'd expect only in the highest priced cars (see illustrations below).

Surprised? You will be . . . when you visit your Ford Dealer and test-drive the Quiet One. Do it soon! ®TM 3M CO.

Exclusive! New, ultra-luxurious Ford LTD has pleated nylon-and-vinyl upholstery, thick cut-pile carpeting, rich walnut-like vinyl trim in doors and instrument panel, rear-seat center arm rest, safety lights in the doors, padded instrument cluster, and more!

Exclusive! Safety-Convenience control panel option. Locks all doors with the flick of a switch. Flick another switch—and exterior flasher system warns passing traffic during roadside stops. Also: Lights to warn you if fuel's low, doors are ajar, or to fasten seat belts.

INVESTIGATING TRAGEDY—Gila County Sheriff Elton R. Jones stands outside the Payson, Ariz., jail where four boys were found dead yesterday after being left alone overnight while being held for juvenile authorities on petty theft investigation charges. (AP Wirephoto)

Four Boys' Jail Deaths Shock Arizona Town

PAYSON, Ariz. (UPI) — This colorful Arizona town portrayed in the novels of Zane Grey was saddened and embittered today because four teen-aged boys died in a jailhouse tragedy more shockingly personal than any of the blood and thunder of Grey's tales of the Old West.

The youths all lived in this Pine Valley town and were known to most of its 800 residents. They suffocated in jail where they had been left alone for 11 hours after their arrest on suspicion of stealing beer for a New Year's Eve party. The town wanted to know why.

Why were they left alone? Why were they jailed at all on the petty theft charge ? Who was to blame for the seemingly senseless deaths of Clifford Greenland, 18; Blaine Schroeder, 16; Kenneth Haught, 15, and John Watkins, 16?

At a meeting in the county administration building Wednesday night, the aroused populace and newsmen were told that an autopsy showed the boys died of asphyxiation from carbon monoxide, probably sometime early Tuesday morning. A defective heater was blamed for causing the fatal fumes.

"It's a terrible thing, but you can't really blame any one person for what happened," a longtime resident concluded after the briefing which in some measure served to calm the community. Most of the anger and suspicion apparently had grown from what had seemed like a cloud of secrecy which fell after the tragedy. The father of one of the victims was not told of his son's death for four hours.

Gila County Sheriff Elton Jones, in office only five days when the deaths were discovered, ordered the jail closed until the apparently defective heater is repaired. Jones said a number of other prisoners were housed in the jail in recent weeks with no apparent ill-effects.

State Bill Pends To Change Rules Of Mental Trial

SACRAMENTO (AP)—An effort to correct reported inequities in the examination of allegedly mentally ill persons will be introduced Monday in the Senate.

Sen. Frank S. Petersen, D-Ukiah, said an important portion of the state's mental health laws could be repealed through a bill he has written.

Under the present law, Petersen explained in an interview, a citizen can petition a judge and two medical examiners to try a person he accuses of being mentally ill.

If the court and examiners overrule the accuser, Petersen said, he may then ask for a jury trial.

"My bill would knock out the jury trial privilege for the citizen making the allegation," the legislator declared. "It's an unfair appeal."

Court Auction Set On Alto Property

An open auction for a 19-acre parcel in Alto — a portion of some 340 acres involved in a foreclosure suit against a group headed by Mill Valley contractor George S. Goheen Sr. and his son, George Jr. — is tentatively scheduled in Marin Superior Court on Jan. 15.

Auction on the remaining property, mostly within the city limits of Larkspur, has been postponed indefinitely, according to Goheen, Jr. He said today several bidders are expected on the 19 acres, appraised at about $114,000, and that Goheen interests will start the bidding.

Proceeds from the sale, he said, will go to a bankruptcy court and to holders of trust deeds on a loan by the Los Angeles Trust Deed and Mortgage Exchange.

The entire property was originally purchased for subdivision by the Goheen group from J. H. Scott, but foreclosure suits by deed holders have been filed to protect against any possible statute of limitations default.

Goheen Jr. said his group expects to be the only bidder on the remainder of the 340 acres when auction of it is scheduled. Judge Joseph G. Wilson of Marin Superior Court last October approved $610,000 minimum bid in the overall foreclosure suit.

Navy Leader Ailing

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Navy Secretary Paul H. Nitze has entered Bethesda Naval Hospital for treatment of stomach disorder, the Pentagon announced yesterday. Assistant Secretary Kenneth E. Belieu will serve as acting secretary during the two to three weeks Nitze is expected to be in the hospital.

Educators Back Sausalito Request

Members of the Marin Assn. of School Administrators yesterday voted to support the request of the Sausalito School District for continuation of state funds for the district's compensatory education program for "culturally handicapped" children.

School superintendents attending the meeting at Lin Fa Restaurant in San Rafael promised to present resolutions of support before their respective school boards.

The group heard Percy H. Steele, executive director of the San Francisco chapter of the Urban League, discuss problems facing the Negro in the Bay Area in education and employment.

Reserves Cut; Hamilton Safe

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Air Force announced today that it will abolish 112 recovery squadrons and 43 recovery groups in a move affecting 8,000 reservists in 44 states and Washington, D.C.

The move, which will mean a savings to the Pentagon, will be completed by March 31.

Recovery units are groups of reservists who would help handle military planes landed at civilian airports after an air attack on the United States.

The recovery program began in 1960. At its peak, it encompassed 18,000 air reservists in 286 units.

(The 349th (Golden Gate) Troop Carrier Wing, Air Force Reserve unit based at Hamilton Air Force Base, will not be affected by the reserve cut announced today, said its commander, Brig. Gen. Rollin B. Moore.

"This is the recovery program and has no effect on the flying units, therefore it will not affect the 349th," he said.

Frozen Trees Falling Down

FORT PIERCE, Fla. (AP) — A freeze in the winter of 1962 is making travel risky these days along Kings Highway, a Fort Pierce area feeder road for the Sunshine State Parkway turnpike.

Residents have complained that towering pine trees, killed by frost, have begun toppling across the road. Half a dozen already have crashed to earth, damaging two automobiles but causing no injuries.

The other dead trees still stand, awaiting a strong wind or settlement of responsibility for removing them.

BEARDS—This is the way two Amish farmers appeared yesterday at Ammen, Mich., when they were told by school authorities to hire a public school teacher for their children. They said their Biblical faith would not permit this, and that, too, they could not afford it. (UPI Telephoto)

Sukarno Stands Pat On Pullout From U.N.

JAKARTA, Indonesia (AP) — President Sukarno declared today that Indonesia "has walked out of the United Nations."

He told cheering crowds at a rally that Indonesia also is pulling out of the U.N. specialized agencies such as the U.N. Educational, Scientific and Cultural Organization and the World Health Organization. These agencies have earmarked about $50 million in aid for Indonesia.

Sukarno promised that Indonesia will continue his crush Malaysia campaign.

Sukarno said appeals have been received from various countries urging Indonesia not to go through with the pullout "but I said, many thanks, my decision remains."

The Indonesian Information Ministry minimized the British military buildup in Malaysia and urged Indonesians not to be scared. The ministry in a statement accused Malaysia of "deliberately exaggerating" the buildup and said it was "an excuse for eventual reciprocal attack on Indonesia."

Action between the two enemy neighbors has been confined so far to sporadic Indonesian raids.

Pope Makes Peace Appeal

VATICAN CITY (AP) — Pope Paul VI said today he is deeply disturbed about the present world situation. He urged "men of nations" to show greater respect for international law and human rights.

In a new peace appeal at an audience for diplomats accredited to the Vatican, the Roman Catholic pontiff indicated special concern for conflicts involving the developing nations in Asia and Africa.

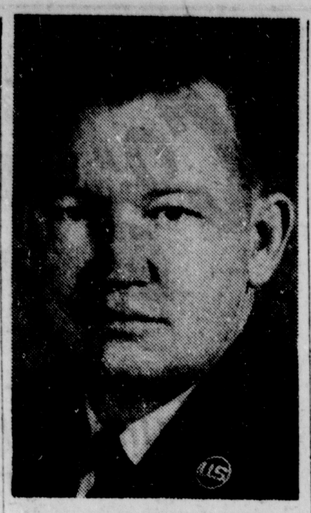

He named no specific countries, but his statement came against the background of trouble in the Congo, Viet Nam and the Indonesia-Malaysia area.

7,400 Students Face Turn-Down

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — San Francisco State College's 16,000-student campus will have to reject about 7,400 new applicants when the new semester begins in mid-February.

Dean of Admissions Larry Foster said yesterday that many new students will be turned away. The number is about 1,000 more than were denied admittance in September.

Foster said the increase was caused by a reduction in the number of dropouts and transfers. About 800 new applicants will be admitted, Foster said. Selections will be made on the basis of scholastic records.

WINS MEDAL — S/Sgt. Kenneth W. Sparkman of the 41st Air Rescue Squadron, who lives at 760 Plaza Amapola, Novato, has won the Air Force Commendation Medal for work done as a radio operator May 3, 1964, at Sondrestrom Air Base, Greenland. The sergeant maintained continuous contact with an aircraft long after it had ditched in Greenland waters, saving 13 people on board.

One of every two South Americans lives in Brazil, the National Geographic Society says. Brazil's territory covers almost half the continent.

Think Center Proposed For State's Ills

SACRAMENTO (AP) — A state-financed "think center" where space scientists will dream up new consumer goods was proposed today by Chairman Robert W. Crown of the Assembly Ways and Means Committee.

It would be a restful haven, removed from the urban society whose ills the scientists would try to cure.

Hidden away in the country, the men who now design rockets could devise new things for consumers to buy—and maybe come up with the long-sought present for the man who has everything.

Crown, Alameda Democrat, said he envisions the center as a place "where knowledgable people can gather and work and convert space technology to consumer goods."

A "Guide to Silent Hotels" — listing those which are situated away from main roads and offer an atmosphere of calm and relaxation — has been compiled by the French Anti - Noise League.

Atlas was supposed to have known the depths of the oceans.

Re-Mapping Not First Item On Senate List

SACRAMENTO (AP) — The Senate apparently has decided to work on other major legislation while considering its most pressing problem—reapportionment.

There had been earlier indications that the upper chamber would spend all of its time on reapportionment until the matter was resolved, then turn to other legislative matters.

The anticipated struggle over how to realign the Senate was the chief factor in predictions that this 114th session of the legislature would last for as long as nine months.

If, as now apparent, other bills are considered while the senators hash out reapportionment, adjournment date may be closer than originally expected.

Sen. Stephen Teale, D — West Point, chairman of a special subcommittee on reapportionment, said it would be six to eight weeks before any solid plan on reapportionment is ready.

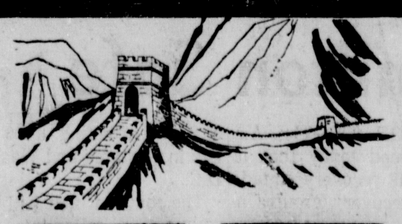

Already signing the bill as cosponsors are Sens. George Miller Jr., D—Martinez, chairman of the powerful Finance committee and Senate Minority Leader John McCarthy, R—San Rafael.

McCarthy told the Associated Press he doubted if any "floor consideration on reapportionment can materialize until at least late June or early July."

"There are too many factors," he said, "to come to grips with the problem any time soon."

The GOP spokesman echoed the statements of Democratic leaders by saying both parties are involved in the redistricting and "therefore, this matter is not partisan and will not become partisan."

McCarthy indicated that other measures would be acted upon while reapportionment is being discussed in the Senate offices.

SECOND FLIGHT FOR TFX

High over Fort Worth, Tex., yesterday, the controversial TFX multi-service fighter plane now re-dubbed the F-111, made its second test flight, 24 days ahead of schedule. Main featue of the tryout was the first-time test of the supersonic craft's ability to fold back its wings for high speed flight, after taking off with them extended for low-speed maneuverability. The F-111 is the lower plane; upper aircraft is a camera-equipped photo chase plane. (UPI Telephoto)

Tavern, Shop Are Battered By Thieves

Malicious thieves, bent on destruction as well as theft, battered their way into a bar and a food shop in San Anselmo early yesterday, police reported.

All they found was $66 in coins and four quarts of whisky, but in their wake they left strewn records and damaged equipment.

The money was stolen from coin-operated refrigerators at the Gourmet Nutrition Shop at 609 San Anselmo Avenue. The thieves cut the wires to the refrigerators, threw records and papers on the floor, and broke a skylight.

The whisky was taken from Jean's Bit O' Bohemia, 607 San Anselmo Avenue, where the burglars tried to smash a jukebox and cigarette machine. Police surmised rear doors to both establishments were broken open with a crowbar found at the scene.

Being Drunk In Car Nets 30-Day Term

Kenneth Kluever, 21, of 720 B Street, San Rafael, was sentenced to 30 days in Marin County Jail yesterday by Judge Joseph G. Wilson of Municipal Court on a guilty plea to being drunk in a car in the 1400 block of Indian Valley Road, Novato, last Sunday.

A companion, Robert Leonard Frank, 20, of 201 Castro Road, Forest Knolls, faces the same charge.

He is scheduled to plead at 1:30 p.m. tomorrow.

Driver Fined $166

Ralph Cain, 49, of 284 Ricardo Road, Mill Valley, was fined $166 yesterday in Marin Municipal Court for drunken driving. He was arrested Jan. 1 on Highway 101 by California Highway Patrol.

CONCERT REVIEW

Epiphany Program Offers Great Pipe Organ Music

By MAYBELLE SPECKMANN

Last night's Epiphany concert marking the 12th day after Christmas indicated that St. Stephen's Episcopal Church in Belvedere is the best place in Marin to hear great pipe organ music.

This is both due to St. Stephen's magnificent acoustics and its recently improved organ. Its full resources were masterfully explored by St. Stephen's organist and choirmaster Mark Smith, who directed the concert, and guest organist and harpsichordist Wilbur F. Russell.

Particularly interesting in Smith's powerful rendition of Louis Marchand's "Dialogue in C Major" was the registration which included the zimbelstern (little bells).

Russell's status as a keyboard virtuoso was revealed in the fourth and fifth of J. S. Bach's canonic variations on "Vom Himmel Hoch."

The 16-voice choir, after opening the concert with the Epiphany carol "Personent Hodie," did not show its potentialities until the second chorus of J. S. Bach's Cantata No. 142, "Uns Ist Ein Kind Geboren" sung in German, and Russell's harpsichord continuo and Patricia Symonds' cello were overpowered at times by the chorus and organ.

Enjoyable in this were the arias sung by Marjorie Broughton, Ken Small and J. D. Nichols, especially Nichols' aria for bass.

Notary Public

SACRAMENTO (CNS) — Secretary of State Frank Jordon today announced issuance of notary public commissions to Phyllis E. Steckel, 146 Marina Boulevard and Winton A. Gastmann, 260 Canal Street, both of San Rafael.

Tornadoes occur in the spring mostly.

Rinaldi Will Conduct East Bay Symphony

Hugo Rinaldi, director of music for San Rafael schools and director of the Marin Youth Orchestra, has been named musical director and conductor of the Contra Costa County Symphony Orchestra.

He will start rehearsing the orchestra on Jan. 25 in preparation for a concert toward the end of the season, and plans three concerts for next season.

LOS ANGELES BATTLERS—The mayoralty of California's largest city will be battled over by Congressman James Roosevelt, 57 (top), son of late President Franklin D. Roosevelt, and ex-Congressman and incumbent Mayor Samuel W. Yorty (below). Roosevelt filed declaration of intent to run yesterday; Yorty —famed for scraps with his city council—also said he will be on the April ballot. (AP Wirephoto)

Three-Man Space Orbit Has Setback

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP)—The U.S. plan to orbit three astronauts in an Apollo moon spacecraft in 1966 suffered its first setback today with announcement of major schedule changes.

Also caught in the revisions was the third Saturn manned mission, which was replaced by an unnamed earth orbital test of the lunar excursion module—LEM—which will carry astronauts to the moon's surface.

Dr. William A. Lee, head of the Operations Planning Division at the Manned Spacecraft Center, said the delay in the first three-man orbital flight should be small.

"Instead of making the launch earlier in 1966," he said, "it will be later in 1966."

Because of the closeness of the schedule, however, problems could send the mission into 1967, observers pointed out.

Original planning called for two unmanned sub-orbital flights of the powerful Saturn 1B rocket. The third, assuming no major setbacks occurred on the previous two, was to be flown by three astronauts.

Lee said the third flight now was scheduled to be a test of the second-stage booster, called the Saturn 4B, and its propellant tanks, which hold liquid hydrogen and oxygen.

After four and one-half hours circling the earth, the Saturn 4B's engine will be started and its 200,000 pounds of thrust will fling the spacecraft toward the moon.

"We need to know how the fuel acts in a weightless condition," Lee said. "The only way we can do that is to send it into space."

Audubon Society Boat Outing Sunday

Persons interested in participating will meet at Lawson's Landing in Dillon Beach at 8:30 a.m. The boat will leave at 9 a.m. and return at 2 p.m., according to Mary Mayer, publicity director. The trip will be cancelled if the weather is poor.

Burglars Get $2,000 In Goods

Burglars described as untidy and careless looted the home of Mrs. Carol Hall, 22 Ranch Road, Los Ranchitos, making off with an estimated $2,000 worth of household items and other merchandise, Marin County sheriff's officers reported today.

Mrs. Hall told deputies entry was via an unlocked garage between 1:30 p.m. and 2:30 p.m. Monday. She said a blanket was stolen, apparently to carry out other items including a wall clock, two television sets, a typewriter, a pair of bonoculars, two sets of golf clubs, a movie projector, and cameras. Taken from the garage, she added, was an outboard motor. The intruders scattered clothing and furniture.

Also broken into was the station wagon of William C. Powell of 25 Elisio Drive, Greenbrae. Powell told officers the vehicle, parked at home between Saturday and Monday, was looted of a high-powered, bolt-action rifle and an auto stero unit, total value of $480.

Sneak Thief Gets TV

While Mr. and Mrs. Basil Knauth slept Monday night, someone entered their home at 63 Peninsula Road, Belvedere, and took a portable television set from the dining room. The doors to the home were unlocked, Belvedere police reported.

INVENTORY TIME AT REDWOOD NATIONAL BANK; TWO YEARS OLD THIS WEEK

Our second year has just ended, and like most other businesses we've been taking our end-of-year inventory. We've been checking our assets, and receivables, and payables, and the rest of it. We do it every year. And every year, the figure we watch most interestedly is the number of people banking with us, and how many more there are than last year. Only then, can we tell if we're doing the right job for our community. Here's what we find: Last year, at this time, 2800 people were banking with Redwood. Now there are more than 6,100 depositors. Last year they had deposited $10.6 million with us. Now it's up 40% to $14.8 million. Last year our total resources were $12.4 million. This year the figures read $16.9. So as you see, we've been growing pretty fast for a small bank. And we're frank to say we owe our growth to you. At Redwood, the way we show gratitude is by trying still harder to serve you better than any bank ever has, by offering every banking innovation possible, and by saying, and meaning it deeply, thank you.

Larkspur Awards Video Franchise

Tele-Vue Systems of Marin, Inc., last night won from the Larkspur City Council a franchise for operation of a TV cable system in the city.

The vote was 3-0, with two councilmen abstaining. For a few minutes it looked as if a franchise might also be given to Tele-Vue's rival, Clear View Cable Systems, Inc., but Mayor Neil R. Brixon scotched that idea, for the time being.

Councilman Earl J. O'Grady abstained because of a possible conflict of interest. Councilman Robert J. Smith abstained because wanted more time for study.

Representatives of both firms said they would be able to operate on a competitive basis, when Councilman Vaughn Marker asked for a reaction to granting two franchises.

"I believe in free enterprise, but here is a case where we must choose one or the other now," said Brixon. He said there might be a second service later, if enough interest is shown.

The council made the selection on recommendation of a citizens committee.

Daniel Allen of the Larkspur committee said that Tele-Vue had proved its ability with its service in the Dublin Area, Alameda County.

Richard C. Webster, general manager of Clear View, said his firm had similar installations, but they were too far away to visit. He said its set-up in Fairfax is temporary and not a good comparison.

Each company agreed to post a $20,000 performance bond, if required by the city, and each agreed to give free service drops for schools and public buildings.

The main difference in service offered is that Clear View is willing to put lines underground immediately.

Brown Reappoints Fish, Game Leader

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Gov. Brown today reappointed Henry (Hank) Clineschmidt of Redding to the State Fish and Game Commission.

Clineschmidt, hotelman and sportsman, is immediate past president of the commission. His reappointment, for a six-year term, will require confirmation by the state senate.

Boys Invade Home, Flee With Cash

Two young boys, caught prowling through a San Rafael apartment, struck the young woman who surprised them and got away with about $8 in loot yesterday afternoon.

Carla Barton, 22, of 215 Laurel Place, told Patrolman G. R. Souza that the leader of the two was about 12 years old, with long hair, wearing a black leather jacket and black gloves. The other, about 10, wore a blue knit sweater with V neck.

She heard her door chime ring and noticed the older boy at the front door. The other went to the sliding door outside her bedroom and began rapping there. Getting no answer, the two boys entered the bedroom through the sliding door.

Miss Barton went to the bedroom and found the two going through her purse. She said she grabbed the younger boy, but the older boy hit her on the arm and forced her to let go.

'Copter, Plane Put Lost Chico Pilot Back On Course

A single-engine Piper Comanche plane was almost forced to land on the beach at Drake's Bay near Point Reyes yesterday afternoon, but a Coast Guard rescue plane and helicopter led it to a safe landing at Crissy Field in the Presidio of San Francisco.

The pilot, David Fabor of Chico in Butte County, went astray in yesterday's storm and found himself circling above the beach at about 500 feet. He didn't know where he was and radioed that he was going to land. The Coast Guard Air Station at San Francisco International Airport told him to hold on until help got there.

The helicopter descended through heavy clouds to lead him to a two-engine rescue plane, which gave him "a quick lesson in formation flying," said Lt. Robert Finan, information officer for the 12th Coast Guard District.

Fabor circled for more than half an hour before the rescue craft found him.

'Life Beneath Sea' Is Topic Tomorrow

Leroy French of San Anselmo, member of the Marin Skindivers Club, will speak on "Life Beneath the Sea" at a public meeting sponsored by the Marin Nature Group at 8 p.m. tomorrow in room 40 at College of Marin.

The club will make a field trip to Goat Rock in Sonoma County Sunday under leadership of commerical photographer Ernest Braun of San Anselmo. The group will meet on Circle Drive at College of Marin at 10 a.m.

Powder In Toy Pipe Is Not Narcotics

A powder in a toy pipe purchased as a Christmas gift by a Loma Verde woman has been analyzed by Marin County sheriff's officers as a harmless bubble-blowing soap.

The substance was taken to officers by Mrs. Margaret A. Thibodeau, 459 Calle de la Mesa, on Christmas Eve on the possibility that it might be a narcotics smuggled into the United States by the Asiatic manufacturer of the pipe.

San Rafael Hospital Wage Talks Go On

San Rafael General Hospital was in the midst of negotiations on employee raises today. It was the only major hospital in Marin facing possible wage adjustments, however.

In San Francisco, negotiations were nearing completion today and raises and pension benefits are expected to increase room rates from $1 to $3 in 14 nonprofit hospitals.

Representatives of Local 250 of the Hospital and Institution Workers Union met early last year directors of the private foundation which operates the hospital approved a salary schedule based on merit and seniority. He hoped today to keep this schedule in effect. Anniversary date for salary adjustments is Feb. 15, Burns said.

San Rafael General is the only hospital in the county where a sizeable portion of employees are members of the union.

Burns said there are 30 union members out of 85 employees. Nurses are not organized, but Burns is asking them to form a committee to discuss a pension plan, something the hospital does not now have.

Directors of Marin Hospital District, which operates Marin General Hospital, last month approved raises for all employees.

Novato General Hospital reviews salaries from time to time on a strictly "internal" basis, according to administrator Milton Scott.

He Has Lawn That Doesn't Need Mowing

DAYTON, Ohio (AP) — It looks like grass, but that green material in Al Metzner's yard is something else — concrete.

Metzner, 78, an inventor and researcher in industry until his retirement, worked out the idea while in the hospital recently. A thousand square feet of his yard are covered with the concrete, which has a deep-brushed finish for grasslike appearance and skidproofing.

DEFENDANT'S MOP TOP IS EVIDENCE?

OAKLAND (AP) — Alameda County Superior Court Judge Lewis Lercara has refused to allow a 17-year-old defendent to have his untidy locks trimmed.

Both the judge and the deputy district attorney agree Nolan Dixon, one of five youths facing assult and robbery charges, needs a haircut.

However, when Dixon's lawyer asked the judge to order the trim, the district attorney objected.

Afternoon Life Can Be Fun, Too

The line is composed of six 10-year-old school girls who specialize in the can-can.

State Highway Aide Named San Rafael City Engineer

Ely Caillouette Jr. of Oakland was appointed San Rafael city engineer yesterday at a salary of $950 per month.

The position has been vacant since Dominic Q. Selmi left Dec. 31 to join Dan Coleman and Associates civil engineering and planning office in San Francisco.

Caillouette was appointed by three members of the city council at a special meeting which was scheduled at the regular Monday night meeting. He had been recommended by City Mgr. Dan E. Andersen and approved by a council committee

Councilmen Charles W. Aby and Barbier were absent from yesterday's brief meeting.

Caillouette is an associate engineer with the California Division of Highways, by which he has been employed since Nov. 1, 1956. Previously he held engineering jobs for the State Division of Bay Toll Crossings, the Alameda County Road Department, and East Bay Municipal Utility District.

City Manager Andersen said Caillouette is expected to start work Jan. 25 and will move soon to San Rafael.

Little Railway Track In City

HONOLULU (AP) — For a city of its size (population 500,000) Honolulu probably has less railroad track than any other major community in the United States.

There are three miles of track, including spurs, and three locomotives. The locomotives ferry pineapples between two canneries and the docks.

Germans Launch Carnival Season

FRANKFURT, Germany (UPI) — Germans today began a 58-day carnival season of drinking, kissing and poking fun at the government.

The "fasching" season ends March 3, Ash Wednesday.

German revelers are joyful this year, because the carnival season will last much longer than 1964's 36-day fasching.

One of the longest faschings of all time was the 66-day celebration two years ago, one of the most extended movable feasts in memory.

OTHER PEOPLE'S BUSINESS

By HARRY CRAFT

Three More Businesses Move To County With New Year

With the new year more new businesses are moving into Marin, and today there are three reported:

H AND R BLOCK CO., large income tax reporting service headquartered in Kansas City, Mo., has opened one office at 2046 Fourth Street, San Rafael, where space was leased in the Miracle Mile Plaza through Herman Deitsch. Another office has been established at 7368 Redwood Highway, Novato (near the Grant Avenue intersection).

Mrs. Schwab

George Brenner, vice president for the Bay Area, lives in Novato, but both offices will be under the supervision of Nathan Hale of San Rafael. Each will employ from four to six persons full and part time, and be open 9 a.m. to 9 p.m. weekdays; 9 to 5 Saturdays and Sundays. The company now has 25 offices in the Bay Area.

MASON-MCDUFFIE CO., 77-year-old mortgage loan firm headquartered in Berkeley, has opened its ninth Northern California office at 1330 Lincoln Avenue, San Rafael (Suite 107 of the Executive Building). Reno Consulter, who previously covered Marin from the San Francisco office, is in charge. He will move his home to Marin. Dennis Cuyler of Bolinas is loan officer.

The company specializes in all types of residential loans, including FHA, G. I. and conventional loans. It is exclusive representative for Northwestern Mutual Life Insurance Co. loans; also represents a number of other life insurance companies and Bay Area savings and loan associations.

MRS. JEANNE SCHWAB of Kent Woodlands has been appointed a registered representative of Waddell and Reed, Inc., St. Louis, Mo., principal underwriter and manager of the United Funds group of mutual funds, the nation's fourth largest mutual fund organization, with 330,000 shareholders.

Mrs. Schwab was formerly associated with the Bay Area Exchange in San Francisco. She majored in psychology and English at State Teachers College, Kearney, Neb.

A CASE OF getting away from the bustle of San Francisco is that of Jack Nelisse, senior tailor with such firms as Bullock and Jones, Hasting's and Jack Davis, who has set up his own shop, the House of Kent, at 928 Sir Francis Drake Boulevard, Kentfield. He also lives at that address and has "executive" hours Mondays through Fridays until 8 p.m.

UNIVERSITY OF CALIFORNIA extension evening courses in real estate brokerage law and appraisal begin tomorrow and Saturday respectively at College of Marin. Information may be secured from the San Francisco Extension Center or from Continuing Education in Real Estate, University of California Extension, Berkeley. Enrollment is open to licensed brokers and persons in related fields.

Course on brokerage law covers the broker's rights, duties and liabilities, a discussion of licensing, relationship to client and seller, escrow functions and the regulation of sales and issuances of securities.

Real estate appraisal course will cover principles in a variety of situations; 15 case studies will be analyzed.

AFTER JAN. 22, tourists to Europe will be able to pick up the new Volkswagen 63-horsepower "Squareback Sedan" station wagon in Wolfsburg, Germany, according to Mill Valley Volkswagen dealer Greg Weatherford. After Feb. 1, they'll be available to tourists almost anywhere in free Europe, he says. Convenient arrangements can be made through Mill Valley Volkswagen or Leon C. Felton Co.— and just as reasonably as on the spot.

Suggested retail list price in Wolfsburg is $1,752. Optional sliding sunroof adds $99. Shipping a VW Squareback home is about $175 to East Coast; import duty after being used in Europe is estimated less than $100.

Loan Report Department Is Planned

A special department to handle a new process of filing personal property loan reports by lending institutions will be set up soon by Noel T. Giacomini, Marin County recorder, he announced today.

Giacomini said the department, which will involve an additional employee, is needed because of a 1963 act by the California Legislature requiring that original loan reports be filed with his office, rather than recorded and then returned to the institutions.

The act, was effective last Friday, he said, but the lending institutions still have the discretion of whether to file any report at all.

Arkansas University is at Fayetteville.

Third Big Advance By Stock Market

NEW YORK (AP) — A January rally today produced a third straight advance by the stock market.

Prices were near their highs for the day at the close. Turnover was the highest of the week.

Although most gains were fairly narrow, a good sprinkling reached a point or two.

Volume for the day was estimated at 5 million shares, best turnover for the week.

The rally still appeared to be coasting on momentum supplied by President Johnson's hearty appraisal of the nation's future. It shrugged off some economic clouds on the horizon.

However, the uptrend was perceptibly less steep than in the past two daily trading sessions.

General Electric, Polaroid, IBM and International Harvester were among standout performers, posting gains of 2 points to beyond 6.

IBM was ahead 6½.

Xerox, one of the most traded issues, was ahead better than a point as trading moved toward the close.

Aircrafts, airlines and railroad groups were among the strongest despite a mild sinking spell suffered by Pennsylvania Railroad.

Steel stocks were notably weak, with U.S. Steel, Bethlehem, Republic and Jones & Laughlin, the top four producers, all turning lower.

Also on the downside were Du Pont, lower by about 2 after earlier strong gains prompted by stock split spculation, and Westinghouse Electric, down fractionally.

Prices were higher in moderate trading on the American Stock Exchange.

Sales Of Dodge

DETROIT — Sales of Dodge cars reached an all time high in 1964. Total sales of 463,646 during 1964 were the highest for any year in Dodge history.

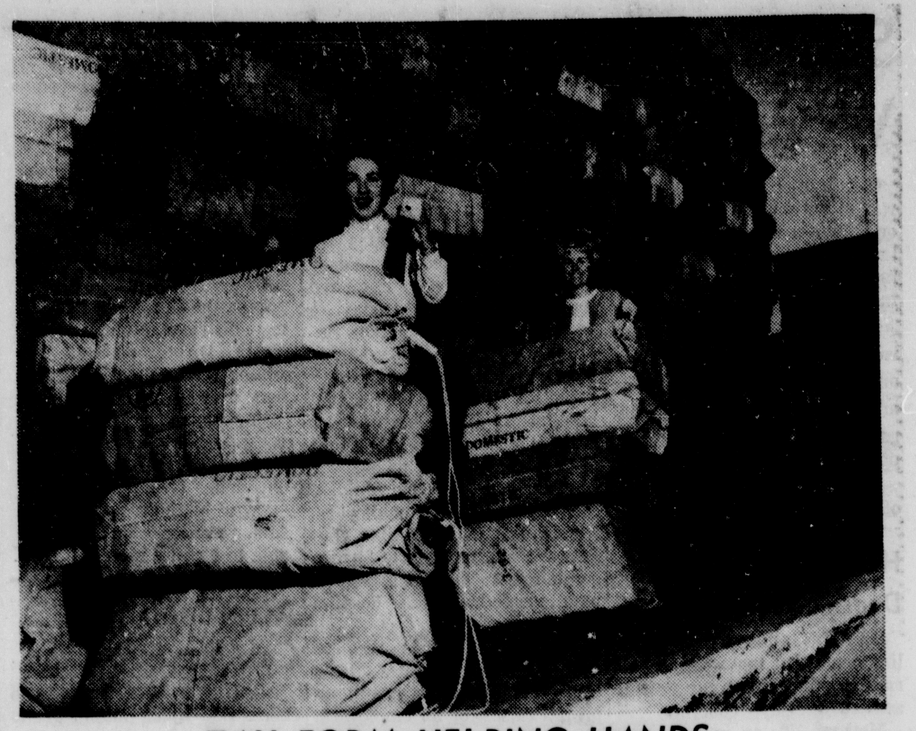

Silver Mine Growth Seen By Udall

WASHINGTON (UPI)— Secretary of Interior Stewart Udall predicted yesterday domestic silver mine production may climb to 41 million ounces annually by 1970.

This would be an increase of 17 per cent over the 1955-63 annual average of 35 million ounces.

In a year-end review of the silver situation, Udall estimated the predicted increase would not keep pace with rising silver consumption. Late in 1964 production was running at an annual rate some 5 per cent above the 1963 output of 35.2 million ounces.

Udall said the minerals industry and the federal government are demonstrating increased interest and activity. He said that private interests are re-examining some long-idle silver mines, and some of these are being rehabilitated.

TAX FORM HELPING HANDS

Though it isn't in their contract, these two girls volunteered to assist moving crews in getting California's five million state income tax forms off in the mail. Their "assist" was to look pretty behind a portion of the 6,500 bags of mail. Pat Silva (left) and Lorraine Rickards are both employees of the Franchise Tax Board in Sacramento. Californians will soon be receiving state income tax forms which must be completed and filed by April 15.

SECURITIES USED FOR DEDUCTIONS

(From the California Society of Certified Public Accountants.)

The amount of deduction allowed for a contribution of property to recognized charitable organizations, churches, etc., is the market value of the property.

You can save tax dollars by making contributions in shares of stock where the market value is greater than your cost because the inherent gain or appreciation in value of the stock is not subject to tax as it would be if the stock was sold.

The same principle applies to other contributions of property, but stock is ideal because its market value usually can be found by looking at the market quotation in the daily paper.

New Evening Courses Set For Businessmen

New evening courses on subjects ranging from cost reduction techniques to retail store sales promotion will be offered for Bay Area businessmen this Spring by the University of California Business Administration Extension.

They head a roster of more than 50 courses in a broad variety of business and management topics scheduled at locations throughout the Bay Area.

New courses to be presented in San Francisco are "Written Communication for Business Management" and "Public Finance," both starting Feb. 8: "Retail Store Sales Promotion," beginning Feb. 10, and "Principles and Techniques of Cost Reduction" and "Preparation for Retirement," both starting Feb. 13. The five courses will be held at the U. C. Extension Center, 55 Laguna Street.

"Written Communication for Business Management" is designed to provide the skills needed to prepare more effective business letters, memoranda, reports, and technical papers. "Public Finance" surveys government spending, fiscal policy, and debt management, with emphasis on their effect on the economy.

"Retail Sale Promotion" covers budgetting and planning of advertising and other types of sales promotion; "Cost Reduction" outlines proven industrial engineering methods for reducing operating costs. "Preparation for Retirement" is intended for managers, personnel administrators, and others interested in the problems, practice, and planning in the field of retirement.

A bulletin containing detailed course descriptions and enrollment forms may be obtained by writing Business Administration Extension, University of California, 2223 Fulton Street, Berkeley. Bulletins are also available at the San Francisco Center.

New Highs Reported By Bank

New highs in earnings, deposits, securities, capital funds and total resources have been reported by United California Bank for 1964.

Net operating earnings of $18,391,518 showed an increase of more than 2.3 million dollars over 1963. Earnings per share were $3.26, compared to $3.06 in 1963, based on average shares outstanding.

Total deposits at year-end were $2,745,681,446, a 6 per cent increase over the year before. Demand deposits in 1964 increased 4 per cent; time deposits increased 9 per cent over the year before, using daily averages as a method of comparison.

During the year the bank sold 50 million dollars of real estate loans to generate funds for investment in higher yield assets. Total loans of $1,755,924,696 at the end of 1964 were slightly higher than at the end of 1963. Total securities of $601,528,361 at year-end reflected a 17 per cent increase.

Total resources rose from $2,920,193,548 to $3,148,250,304. Capital funds increased from $230,249,280 to $233,351,204. Shareholders at the annual meeting Jan. 13 will be asked to approve the issuance of an addition 35 million dollars in capital notes.

United California Bank gained 10 offices in the state during 1964, for a total of 169 at year-end. One of these is located in San Rafael. It is expected another 10 offices will be opened in 1965.

LBJ May Seek U.S. Reduction In Gold Reserve

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Johnson tentatively plans to ask Congress to eliminate the gold backing on part of the nation's money supply, it was learned today.

The plan would leave unchanged the 25 per cent gold backing on U.S. currency.

It would make an additional $5 billion in gold available for future increases in the money supply or to meet international obligations.

The plan calls for elimination of the legal requirement for a 25 per cent gold backing on reserves which form the basis of the U.S. banking system. The move would be only the second major change in relationship between money and gold since the United States abandoned the strict gold standard in 1934.

Highly placed sources said Johnson feels further increases in the money supply will be needed since the economic signs point to a fifth straight year of business expansion.

Mattel Sales

HAWTHORNE — Mattel, Inc., has reported sales of $86,970,000 for the nine months ended Nov. 28, and earnings of $3,871,000 equal to $1.44 per share. For the comparable three quarters in 1963 Mattel's volume was $85,276,000 from which it earned $5,159,000, or $1.93 a share.

YOLO COUNTY HAS STORM WOES

Although California's Central Valley has had relatively little damage in recent storms, the Stephens Bridge across Cache Creek a mile and a half west of Woodland, on Road 94-B, collapsed yesterday under impact of the rising waters. Twenty families were evacuated from Capay, a hamlet 15 miles upstream, when creek threatened to spill over. (UPI Telephoto)

DEVELOPER RAPS DISTRICT BOARD

By BRUCE COLEMAN

Miwok Corp. has dropped negotiations with the Muir Beach Community Services District to develop a water supply for a proposed 60-home subdivision near Muir Beach.

The announcement was made last night before the district board, Chairman Jack F. Harris reported today, adding that "Miwok could not come to any agreement."

However, Leslie Smith, vice president of Miwok, said today the joint venture was dropped because "we have been put off, ignored, and double-talked for one and one-half years . . . they (the board) absolutely refused to have any reasonable conversation with us.

"We have tried everything except paving the streets of Muir Beach with gold bricks."

He said his company, which had made efforts to put in a water supply and give it to the district at no cost, will go ahead with its water plans on its own, getting water from wells.

Construction of 60 single family homes on 60 acres will begin about April, weather permitting, he said. Water will be supplied to the subdivision and to some people living at the beach.

Resignation of Mrs. Gates R. King was accepted by the services district board and James A. Dixon, who is employed by University of California, was appointed in her place.

Harris said Mrs. King gave no reason for her resignation, but Mrs. King said today, "I felt the board was failing to meet its responsibilities to the community in a great many ways." She declined to elaborate on this.

Harris reported the board approved an agreement with George W. Wheelwright, owner of Green Gulch Ranch, whereby he will furnish water to the district if pumping of a well on his property lowers the water line in the district's well. This covers a three-month period. Wheelwright is leaching his well of salt.

Dodd Repeats Move To Curb Guns By Mail

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Sen. Thomas J. Dodd, D - Conn., yesterday reintroduced his bill to limit the mail order sale of firearms and blamed the "gun lobby" for shooting it down last year.

Dodd said most of the nation would like to see several limitations on the mail order sale of weapons. But, he said, the gun lobbies are a "small, vocal, and well-organized minority" who have succeeded in blocking such legislation in the past.

"This legislation was neither hastily conceived, hastily introduced nor poorly thought out as the public has been led to believe," he said. He said that following the late President John F. Kennedy's assassination the gun lobby exploited a cry of "hysteria" to defeat it.

Larkspur Learns Cost Estimate 50 Pct. Off

The Larkspur City Council last night learned that a "guesstimate" made five years ago on the cost of constructing the Madrone Avenue loop in a steep canyon had been about 50 per cent too low.

City Engineer B. J. Whitlow, looking embarrassed, said his 1960 estimate of $35,000 has now jumped to $68,000, and that would be for a 24-foot wide road, which he called inadequate. Adding another four feet of width would cost an additional $11,000, and adding still another four feet would cost $14,000 more, he said.

Whitlow said the terrain is steeper, the creek is wider and there are more trees, including one redwood five feet in diameter, than he originally supposed. Even with the minimum width, there will have to be a steep cut bank 55 feet high, he said.

City Mgr. Ronald E. Piper noted the project is a top priority item for road construction in the city, but said the new figures may change that.

Councilman Vaughn Marker said he felt the project would have to wait about five years. However, Mayor Neil R. Brixon countered that Madrone Avenue, which now narrows to 14 feet, is the only reasonable access for fire equipment to numerous homes above.

"I don't think the need has changed," he argued.

The council agreed to go ahead with the purchase of two parcels of property in the proposed right of way, but to hold up further action for the time being.

The council passed a resolution urging the state to route the proposed Highway 17 freeway through San Rafael and out the Miracle Mile, rather than having it leave Highway 101 north of San Rafael.

Piper said the proposal by County Supervisor Ernest N. Kettenhofen, to have a northerly route bypassing San Anselmo and Fairfax would create problems with increased traffic on Sir Francis Drake Boulevard.

The Larkspur City Council Also:

1. Named Brixon, Marker and Whitlow to a committee to check on the needs and standards for stairs to cross divider strips in narrow separated streets in Greenbrae.

2. Called for bids Feb. 2 on two widening projects on Magnolia Avenue north of the downtown area.

3. Passed a resolution asking Congress to make Highway 101 part of the interstate highway system.

4. Heard planner John David Erickson report that the master plan project may be shortened from a year to eight or nine months. He said he would start work immediately.

5. Agreed to allow Piper to attend the state city managers' meeting Feb. 17-19 in Sacramento.

6. Accepted a gift of $5.400 from Adolph A. Tiscornia, who suggested that part of the funds be used to remove several large eucalyptus trees near his land which constituted a hazard.

7. Briefly discussed the Corte Madera Town Council action rejecting the budget for the joint recreation commission program covering the two cities, but decided not to interfere.

Talk On Ferns

Marin County Branch of the American Fuchsia Society will hear a talk by Harry Ross of Berkeley on ferns and winter care of fuchsias at its meeting at 8 p.m. today in Painters Hall, 701 Mission Avenue, San Rafael.

Novato Has Year's First Rabid Skunk

A rabid skunk was shot by a Novato policeman New Year's Day, according to the Marin County Health Department which completed tests on the animal yesterday.

The skunk was spotted on a fire trail by Patrolman J. O. Fitzgerald south of San Marin Drive. He killed it with a shotgun and sent it to the health department for tests.

Last year was a record one for rabid skunks. County Health Officer Carolyn B. Albrecht reported that 19 skunks, one badger and a bat were found to be rabid in 1964.

There was no evidence that the skunk killed by Fitzgerald had any contact with humans or with other animals, Dr. Albrecht said.

School Boards Institute Due

Directors of the Marin School Boards Assn. last night agreed to hold an institute for trustee candidates in March, soon after close of filings for school board elections to be held in April.

The directors, meeting at the College of Marin, decided the special institute would be needed to give candidates some idea of the problems involved in the job of a trustee, according to president Lawrence Goldberg of the Kentfield district.

Secretary Elizabeth M. Deedy said she was working on setting up a meeting in Marin County of legislators involved in school affairs, so they may be questioned by local trustees.

Tideland Purchase Meeting Tomorrow

The Strawberry Recreation Commission will meet in special session tomorrow to discuss methods of purchasing a tideland parcel on which development for a residential subdivision has already started.

The meeting will be at 8 p.m. in the teachers room of Strawberry Point School. The district, City of Tiburon and Marin County are discussing purchasing the tidelands to keep them from dredge and fill development, possibly with the aid of a federal grant.

Peter H. Behr, county supervisor representing southern Marin, is expected to attend the meeting.

Seventeen nearby property owners in Strawberry have filed suit in Marin Superior Court aimed at stopping the development by Harbor Cove, Inc., also naming the recreation district in an attempt to make definite alleged district easements on the property. An injunction against the dredging, asked by the property owners, still is pending in court.

Hordes of visitors proved Thomas Jefferson's undoing. The steward of Monticello, his estate near Charlottesville, Virginia, groaned: "I have often sent a wagon-load of hay up to the stable and the next morning there would not be enough to make a bird's nest. I have killed a fine beef and it would all be eaten in a day or two." After Jefferson's death, his daughter had to sell Monticello to pay his debts.

Pole Houses Contract Facing Cancellation

The Marin County Redevelopment Agency is seeking legal advice on whether it can cancel its contract with California Development Co. for building 30 pole houses in Marin City.

The houses were to have been started last October. Chairman Alton Lerch and Commissioner Omar E. McNally complained at Tuesday's agency meeting that they have not been started and the company has offered no assurance when they will be. The commission then asked for legal advice on whether the contract can be cancelled.

About 30 similar structures were completed in 1963 and all but one have been sold and are occupied. They aroused concern at that time since some prospective buyers were displeased that the homes were built on telephone poles.

Gerald Hill, attorney representing six Marin City families who plan to build their own homes on Donohue Street, told the commission his clients expect to start construction next month.

The commission authorized renting the Marin City Community Services District office space and the Rosa Building at $90 monthly. Executive director Donald H. Stutzman explained that federal regulations require that rentals to public or semi-public bodies be at rates which pay all carrying charges for the money required to purchase the property.

Stutsman reported that the urban renewal administration has approved an increase from $1,472,000 to $1,619,000 in the federal grant for the Marin City Redevelopment project.

Minutes Show Meeting Date

Minutes of Dec. 28 meeting of the Fairfax City Council show that meeting was adjourned to Jan. 4, not Jan. 5 as was tentatively set by the council at its Dec. 14 meeting, City Clerk Alice Leonesio said today.

"No special notice of the time of Monday's meeting was given because we are not required to notify the public or press of adjourned meetings," she said.

The Independent—Journal was not aware of the change in date when it reported yesterday that no notice of the change was given to the press or public.

Wide-Open Marin Prep Cage Title Race Predicted

Independent-Journal Sports

Thursday, Jan. 7, 1965 17

By RALPH CHATOIAN

It's difficult to pick favorites for the Marin Athletic League basketball race this year, but according to the competing varsity coaches, it looks like Marin Catholic, Novato and San Rafael are the picks.

Without the preview advantage of the MAL tournament, most coaches seem to be in the dark on just what to expect from each team. They all agree on one thing: It's going to be a close race.

League action will get underway tomorrow night, with six of the seven league teams scheduled for games. Novato is at San Rafael, Terra Linda is at Tamalpais, and Drake is at Marin Catholic. Class B games will open the cards at 7 p.m., followed by the varsity tilts.

Redwood, drawing the opening round bye, hosted Washington High of Fremont today at 4 p.m. First league scrap for Redwood will be next Tuesday against Drake, 4 p.m. in the Redwood gym.

Among the main reasons Novato and San Rafael are high on the list of challengers are (1) they were the co-champs last year, and (2) they are the only schools not to have a losing record on the practice slate this year. Actually, Novato is the only school with a winning record, 6-2, as San Rafael is batting .500 with a 5-5 mark.

But as far as returning strength is concerned, San Rafael lost its first eight cagers from the 1963-64 team. San Rafael has been getting good shooting strength from forward Bob Rich and guard Ken Erdman.

Novato also lost most of its championship team. Only two boys from that team are back, Ron Rowell and John Dolinsek, both guards. Dolinsek, however, didn't see much action for the Hornets last year when he was a sophomore.

Among Novato's early season wins this season was one against Montgomery High of Santa Rosa, one of the better teams around the North Bay. After that 73-72 overtime victory, most observers changed their pre-season thoughts about the Hornets.

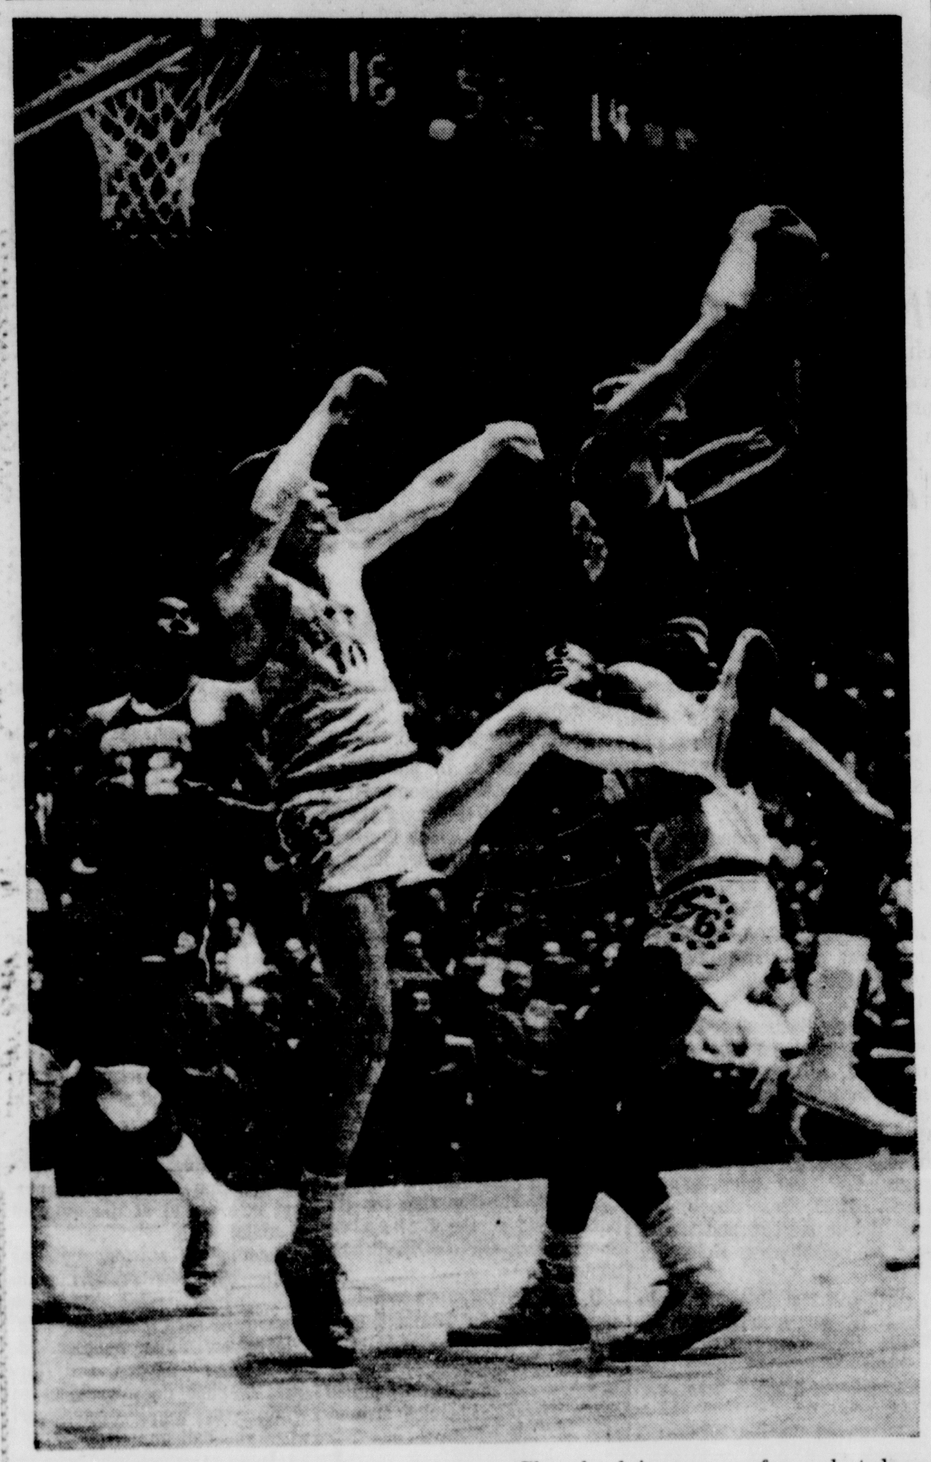

Marin Catholic has as many varsity experienced boys on its team as any team in the league, with five returnees from the 1963-64 squad. The boys will be playing for a new coach in Gus Hassapakis who has come over from Riordan High in San Francisco. That experience, especially in forward Tom Soden who was a first stringer last season, has prompted opposing coaches to be leary of the Wildcats.

Drake may be a sleeper in the league, as the Pirates also have some key experience paced by forwards Rick Henika and Larry Stein, both starters last year for coach Carl "Red" Brown. Terra Linda also has five returnees from last year's varsity. Heading this list is center Kraig Kilby (6-4) and guard Don Knotts, two adept scorers.

Drake and Terra Linda were the bottom teams last year, however, the Pirates finishing the league schedule with a 2-10 record and the Trojans one step lower, 1-11. Because of this, neither team has been picked for outstanding things in '65.

Redwood was hobbled by injuries early in the season with center Chuck Meyer (6-4) and guard Charles Davis sidelined for a good portion of time. Both are back on the active list for the Giants who have good height as one of their strong points. Now that the bandages are off, Dick Hart's boys are after some wins.

Tamalpais has a very "young" team, with only four seniors on the roster. Seven others are juniors and another is a freshman, so the underclassmen outnumber the seniors 2 to 1. Tam, loser of its first eight practice games season before finally winning, will need to gain quite a bit of experience before making a threat.

Lombardi Says He'll Keep Paul Hornung

GREEN BAY, Wis. (AP) — Green Bay Coach Vince Lombardi is high on Paul Hornung's "potential" and plans to keep the high-scoring halfback with the Packers.

Lombardi emphatically denied yesterday a report that he and Hornung had clashed and the former Notre Dame star was on the trading block, possibly in a deal with the New York Giants.

"I don't know a player in the National Football League who has the potential of Hornung," Lombardi said. "You don't give up something for nothing.

"Now, I'm not saying that we're going to sit pat up here. If we have an opportunity to better ourselves, we will trade. But I have no plans to trade Hornung, period."

According to a New York report, Lombardi and Hornung clashed when the halfback reported late for a team meeting before the Packers met the St. Louis Cardinals in the Pro Playoff Bowl in Miami. The report quoted the coach as telling Hornung: "Get in your car and keep going."

"That's a bold face lie," Lombardi said. "I had no disagreement whatsoever with Hornung. There's absolutely no truth to that story."

Hornung was on the bench when the Packers opened against the Cardinals. He carried the ball only five times and his lone pass on the option play was intercepted, killing Green Bay's last chance in a 24-17 loss. However, Hornung booted a 40-yard field goal and added two conversions.

Hornung was Green Bay's bonus choice in the NFL draft in 1957. He became a star after Lombardi took over the Packers in 1959, leading the league in scoring three straight years and setting an NFL scoring record of 176 points in 1960.

He sat out the 1963 season under suspension for betting on games and returned to the Packers last season at the age of 28.

Although troubled by a pinched shoulder nerve much of the campaign, he finished fourth in scoring with 107 points. He gained 415 yards rushing and caught nine passes for another 98 yards.

Los Angeles Open Begins Tomorrow

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Professional golfers kick off the richest winter tournament circuit in history tomorrow, with Arnold Palmer and virtually all the other big name players teeing off in the first round of the $75,000 Los Angeles Open.

A small army of pros and amateur partners were set for today's pro-am prelude for the $5,000 pocket-money included in the largest purse in the tournament's history.

The setting, as it has been since 1956, is the Rancho municipal course, 7,131 yards in length, par 36-35-71.

The pros, few of whom ever offer public antipathy of a testing ground, generally refer to it as "not a bad course."

Two star players will not compete in this 39th annual tournament, Jack Nicklaus, the leading money winner in 1964, and South Africa's Gary Player.

Nicklaus usually joins the tour in the Bing Crosby pro-am later in the month and Player is limiting his United States appearances this year to many fewer than usual.

On hand, however, is U.S. Open champion Ken Venturi. The young Californian won the Los Angeles Open in 1959 and went into something of an eclipse until he scored his great comeback in 1963.

Also present, and of course highly regarded, are British Open champion Tony Lema and the American PGA king, Bob Nichols.

Harney had rounds of 71-72-66-71-280 to win out last year, with Nichols second at 281. Palmer, Bob Goalby, Dow Finsterwald and Al Geiberger tied at 282.

The 72-hole tournament is scheduled to end Monday.

Providence Remains Unbeaten

By TED MEIER
Associated Press Sports Writer

Lenny Wilkins, Johnny Egan, Vinnie Ernst and Ray Flynn. They were the stars who brought national recognition in basketball to Providence College the last six years.

Now Jim Walker, a 6-foot-3 sophomore, is following in the footsteps and once again the Friars are in the headlines as the only unbeaten major team in the country.

The charges of Coach Joe Mullaney made it 10 in a row by whipping Boston College and John Austin 89-79 at Newton, Mass., last night. Walker, whose style is being compared to Providence's former greats, threw in 28 points on nine field goals and 10 of 11 free throws.

Bill Blair, a junior, also chipped in with 28 points for the Friars, who led by 19 points at halftime. Austin, playing with an injured wrist, got 29 points for Boston College. He sat out the first eight minutes of the second half.

It was the fifth victory on the road for the Friars indicating they are tough anywhere. Their other road triumphs came against Creighton, Iowa, St. Francis of New York and Fairfield. They play Canisius Saturday at Buffalo, N.Y.

Ninth-ranked Providence was the only team in the Associated Press top ten to see action. Louisville, 9-2, scored a 80 home court triumph over LaSalle. In other home court victories, Brigham Young whipped Seattle 92-72 behind John Fairchild's 23 points and Marquette edged Chicago Loyola 71-69 on Rocke Calvelli's jump shot in the last second of a five-minute overtime.

Wake Forest drubbed North Carolina 107-85 and N.C. State downed Virginia 73-67 in two Atlantic Coast Conference games. West Virginia took Virginia Military 87-79 in the Southern Conference and Tennessee Tech beat East Tennessee 83-70 in the Ohio Valley Conference.

Bowling Green surprised Toledo 73-69 for its first victory of the season and ended a seven-game losing streak. In other Mid-American Conference games, Miami of Ohio beat Kent State 68-47 and Ohio Uinv. downed Western Michigan 91-70.

And the unbeaten Evansville Aces, the No. 1 small college team, made it 10 straight and 16 in a row, including last year, with a 79-71 triumph over Butler.

MORTON TO TALK AT INJURY CONFERENCE

Craig Morton, California's All-American quarterback, will be main speaker at the evening session of the Marin Sports Injury Conference in San Rafael on Jan. 30, it was announced yesterday.

Morton, hero in last week's West victory over the East in the Shrine game at San Francisco and a participant in tomorrow's Hula Bowl game in Honolulu, is expected to discuss how he overcame leg injuries to attain AllAmerican stardom when he appears at the Injury Conference at Dominic's Harbor Restaurant. The dinner session starts at 6:30 o'clock.

The noon speaker of the day-long affair will be former San Francisco 49er end Gordy Soltau. Panel discussions will dominate the morning and afternoon sessions.

The conference, co-sponsored by Marin Medical Society and Marin Superintendent of Schools Office, is open to the public.

Arkansas Team Wins Grantland Rice Award

HONOLULU (AP) — "I'm prouder than I've ever been in my life," said Coach Frank Broyles yesterday on learning that his unbeaten, untied Arkansas Razorbacks will receive the Grantland Rice Award.

The memorial to the late sports writing great goes to the team rated No. 1 in the United States by a five-man committee representing the Football Writers Association of America.

"This is something I know the people of Arkansas have dreamed about for a long time," he said. "I know that this has to be the proudest moment in the athletic history of Arkansas—for the players, the university and our fans.

"They all rank No. 1," Broyles said.

Arkansas, the Southwest Conference champion, defeated Nebraska 10-7 in the Cotton Bowl game for an 11-0 record—the only major college football team without a loss.

The Razorbacks finished second in the final Associated Press football poll, which was released before the bowl games. Alabama, No. 1 in the last poll, lost in the Orange Bowl to Texas, which was defending national champion and No. 1 when it lost by a point to Arkansas.

The Razorbacks received four first-place votes and one for third. Notre Dame was runner-up with five second-place votes. Texas had one first-place vote and one third-place vote for four points and Michigan received three third-place votes for three.

Alabama received no votes for first, second or third place.

The five-man committee was composed of Si Burick, Dayton News; Fred Russell, Nashville Banner; Blackie Sherrod, Dallas Times-Herald; Steve Weller, Buffalo Evening News, and Paul Zimmerman, Los Angeles Times.

"It is a great reward for this Razorback team," he said. "The players dedicated themselves to this end after our victory over Texas.

"It required hard work, tremendous leadership and unselfishness," Broyles said. "They improved steadily each week and climaxed the season with a championship drive in the Cotton Bowl against an outstanding Nebraska team."

"We received the greatest support of any team in America from our students and fans throughout the state," he said. "I think it's wonderful for our squad and the state. We had such great effort all year long. I'm as excited as everybody in Arkansas is."

All Football Men Shouldn't Be Criticized Because Of A Few

HANLEY

A powerful lot of preaching about ethics has been going on in the sports pages recently because of a handful of double contract signings by college football players with both pro leagues.

A plague on both pro leagues was the prayer of an eastern sports editor because they "are spoiled rotten and violate every concept of common decency."

The owner of one pro team commented sadly: "It used to be that when you shook a boy's hand on a contract, it was his bond. Now, contract or not, if the money's bigger, they call you on the phone and say never mind."

A ROCKY MOUNTAIN columnist didn't find this surprising because "many college football players, since diaperhood, have been conditioned to cheating by (illegal) financial rewards from their schools."

An eminent New York columnist expressed the same thought in stronger words: "No one is better aware of under-the-table payments than college football players. The colleges teach them to cheat even before the kids have left high school."

THERE UNQUESTIONABLY is some truth in all of the laments. However, what has happened hardly is the occasion for hysteria. And it should be remembered that the criticism is justified only in a half dozen double signings.

True, even one double signing is enough to create a scandal. But the half dozen that did take place should not be permitted to smear the reputations of all college football players or, for that matter, all pro football scouts and owners. Believe it or not, 99 per cent of them are quite ethical.

MORE THAN 200 college players were drafted by the pros this season and the vast majority of those drafted honored their verbal promises to the teams that selected them. No pro team will waste a draft choice on a player who has not indicated he is willing to play for it.

So there should be no general indictment of standards of ethics just because a half dozen have elastic consciences.

Slumping Warriors Lose Again

SYRACUSE, N.Y. (AP)— San Francisco's Warriors have started out the New Year exactly as they ended the old year—losing.

As things have been going so far this new year for the Warriors—very low in the cellar of the National Basketball Association's Western Division — they probably could ask for a handicap, and get it.

Philadelphia's 76ers added another loss to the Warriors' long string last night with a 121-102 lashing. The 76ers scored 46 points in the final quarter.

The loss was the Warriosr' 10th straight.

So far this season—just abut half over—the Warriors have amassed 32 losses and only 11 victories. They meet the Boston Celtics tomorrow in San Francisco.

The Warriors pulled to within three points of the 76ers in the third quarter of last night's game—75-72—but dropped hopelessly behind in the final stanza.

Wayne Hightower gave new life to the Warriors' third-quarter spurt, scoring three baskets late in the period.

Jacinto Wins Feature Race

ARCADIA, Calif. (AP) — William Haggin Perry's Jacinto, a son of the great Bold Ruler, made an impressive surge in the stretch yesterday to overtake Hempen and win the $25,850 Los Feliz Stakes at Santa Anita Park.

49er Coach In Court

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Pro football coach Jim David surrendered yesterday on a complaint charging felony hit and run in a traffic accident on Dec. 23 in which two San Franciscans were injured.

The 37-year-old defensive backfield coach for the San Francisco 49ers was released on his own recognizance and told to appear today in municipal court.

He is charged with being the driver of a car that struck a doctor's wife and the 10-year-old son of a bank official.

The injured were Lois Gordon, 33, and John Ehrlich Jr.

Both had multiple contusions but have recovered, Mrs. Gordon's husband, Dr. John Gordon, reported to police.

Police said the car driver stopped to pick up the Ehrlich boy but was warned by Dr. Gordon against moving him. According to police, the driver then left, failing to give his name and address.

Sutton Is First Indy 500 Entrant

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (UPI)— The first entry for the 49th annual 500-mile Speedway Classic, a new rear-engine Offenhauser powered car, will be driven by veteran Len Sutton of Portland, Ore. The car, entered Wednesday, is similar to the one Sutton drove last year which had mechanical difficulties after 350 miles and forced him out of the race.

Murakami Is Expected To Play In S.F.

FRESNO (UPI) — Masanori Murakami, the Japanese pitching ace who became the first member of his nationality to pitch major league baseball in this country, says he plans to play with the San Francisco Giants again this year.

A friend, Mrs. Kiyoto Saiki of Fresno, said yesterday she had received a letter from Murakami in which he said he plans to return to the United States at the end of this month. He said he will join the Giants at their Arizona training camp.

Murakami is in Japan. He formerly was under contract to the Nankai Hawks, the champions of Japan, and has been reported under pressure by them and his Japanese fans to remain in his home country.

The Hawks have claimed that they only loaned Murakami to the Giants. But Horace Stonehan, president of the Giants, says Murakami's contract was purchased outright last spring.

Murakami played with the Fresno Giants of the California League during most of last season, winning 11 games and losing 7, and compiling a 1.78 earned run average. He was voted Rookie of the Year for his help in leading the Giants to the league championship.

Near the end of the season, he moved up to the San Francisco parent club. During 15 innings in relief, he struck out 15 and gave up eight hits, posing a 1.80 ERA.

Mrs. Saiki said Murakami had his tonsils removed in Japan on Christmas Day. "But," she said, "he feels fine now."

West Remains Favorite To Win Pro Bowl

LOS ANGELES (AP)— The West remained a slight favorite to defeat the East in the National Football League Pro Bowl game Sunday—despite recent losses to the eastern division.

The West holds a 9-5 edge in the series and apparently the smart ones think Baltimore's Johnny Unitas and company can do it again.

The Colts—and Unitas—went down to defeat before the Cleveland Browns in the NFL championship game and the Browns' quarterback, Frank Ryan, is here to lead the East with several of his teammates.

Consistent MVP

CLEVELAND (UPI)—Fred Glover of the Cleveland Barons has been named the American Hockey League's most valuable player three times in the last five years.

MORTON VS. RHOME

Air Duel On Tap For Hula Bowl

HONOLULU (AP)—A passing duel between Craig Morton and Jerry Rhome is expected to highlight Honolulu's 19th annual Hula Bowl football game tomorrow night.

Morton of the University of California will start at quarterback for the South all stars, while Tulsa's all-time passing great, Rhome, will share the signal calling duties for the North with Bob Berry of Oregon.

"I can't figure how they put Tulsa in the North," Rhome said, "but I'm looking forward to playing against Morton."

Rhome was switched from the South stars to the North two weeks ago to set up the battle between two of he nation's top passers.

The two quarterbacks have both signed with the Dallas Cowboys of the National Football League.

Morton has an explosive backfield behind him with Gale Sayers of Kansas at halfback, Larry Elkins of Baylor at the flanker spot and either Harold Philipp of Texas or Jim Grisham of Oklahoma at fullback.

The status of Grisham and Sooner tackle Ralph Neely for the Hula Bowl has not been announced.

Both players had invitations to the all-star game revoked last weekend when it was learned they had been dropped from Oklahoma's Gator Bowl squad for signing pro contracts.

Grisham and Neely later were told they could come here and both worked out with he South yesterday afternoon. Coach Frank Broyles of Arkansas had no comment when asked if they would play Friday night.

The North will start either Rhome or Berry at quarerback, Kent McCloughan of Nebraska at halfback, Junior Coffey of Washington at fullback and Jim Jones of Wisconsin at flanker.

Washington State running star Clarence Williams has been working at defensive back but will be available for duty on offense if needed by North co-coaches Wayne Hardin and Len Casanova.

Both squads sharpened their passinng attacks yesterday afternoon after visiting the Arizona Memorial at Pearl Harbor on a morning sightseeing tour.

COMEDY BASKETBALL—Art "Bones" Smith, a lanky six feet, nine inches, will be leading some of the comedy routines for the Harlem Clowns tonight when they play against the Block "M" Club of College of Marin. The game, slated to start at 8 o'clock, will be held in the Kentfield gymnasium.

Senior Bowl Slated For Saturday

MOBILE, Ala. (AP) — The North squad came through its first real head-knocking session with two big 10 quarterbacks expected to alternate at the helm for Saturday's 1t6h annual Senior Bowl All-Star game.

North Coach George Wilson, formerly of the Detroit Lions, put his charges through an unusually rugged scrimmage yesterday. Rich Badar of Indiana and Tom Myers of Northwestern did most of the passing during the offensive drills.

Outside end Jim Whalen of Boston College and deep flanker Jerry Smith of Arizona State were favorite targets on long pass plays by Badar and Myers. Big Bill Cronin of Boston College was worked on short passes, operating from tight end.

Most of the ball carrying was done by Dick Gordon of Michigan State, Bill Symons of Colorado and Tom Nowatzke of Indiana, along with Missouri's Gus Otto.

Lance Rentzel, Oklahoma back, alternated both with Smith and Whalen, and Len Frketich of Oregon State moved in at tight end on several plays.

The North squad was a day behind the South in putting on South Coach Tom Landry appeared to have settled on quarterback Steve Tensi, the hero of the Gator Bowl victory over Oklahoma, for down the middle work. However, Alabama's Joe Namath, who recently signed with the New York Jets for $400,000, is likely to see action.

Alabama trainer Jim Goostree, who also is trainer for the South, says Namath is doing just fine and he is "capable of putting on the same performance or better than he put on last week."

Jackie Robinson Is Winner Of Diabetic Award

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The Diabetes Association of Southern California has disclosed that former baseball star Jackie Robinson is a victim of the disease in giving Robinson its annual award.

The award cites Robinson as a diabetic who has achieved success in his chosen field.

Robinson, now board chairman of a New York bank and vice president of a candy company, wrote a letter accepting the award. It said in part:

Although I was not a diabetic at the time I was active in my athletic career, for which I give thanks, I want to do everything possible to aid the Diabetes Association of Southern California and its wonderful and important work . . .

Luckily, my diabetes was discovered before it was to late.

Brodie Is NFL Golf Champion

HOLLYWOOD, Fla., (AP) — Two years on golf's tournament trail have paid off to the tune of a new car for San Francisco 49er quarterback John Brodie. Brodie carded a 75 yesterday for a 54-hole total of 231 to win the National Football League Golf Tournament and the first prize of a 1965 Ford Mustang.

Brodie came home one stroke ahead of Jesse Whittenton, Green Bay Packers defensive back, though at one time he trailed Whittenton by four strokes.

Whittenton finished with a 232, followed by King Hill, Philadelphia Eagle quarterback who had 236. Jim Bakken, St. Louis Cardinal place kicker, had 238 and Bob Taylor, New York Giants defensive end, finished with 242.

Green Bay Packer quarterback Zeke Bratkowski was eighth with 251, followed by Washington Redskin linebacker John Reger, who had 257.

'Shoemaker's Acres' A Good New Name For Santa Anita

By BOB MYERS

ARCADIA (AP)—Santa Anita Park may as well make it official and change its name to Shoemaker's Acres.

Obviously Shoemaker couldn't wait to take on the second thousand. All he did was boot home three before the day was out.

Racing people could recall only one jockey who has ever registered 1,000 wins at one track. That was Shoemaker, who did it a year and a half ago at neighboring Hollywood Park.

Hitting a one thousand milestone is not exactly new to Willie. He's done it five times.

After Tuesday's rampage, Shoemaker's lifetime total was 5,034.

He started the day off in the first race aboard a steed named Destroy.

The victory was distinctive on several counts. In addition to hitting No. 1,000, Shoemaker did it on a mount that paid $15 for a $2 win ticket, which is a rare price for a Shoemaker horse.

The Shoe has said he plans to ride only two or more years, on one condition. That his friendly rival, Longden, has finally retired.

"I'll be darned if I'll retire," said Shoemaker, with a wide smile, "as long as Longden is still riding."

After Destroy, Shoemaker booted in King Scorpion in the fourth for $5.20 and the favored Dusty Canyon in the sixth for $2.80.

Santa Anita has been a pleasant place for Shoemaker since he first rode and won there in 1950.

All Willie has done since is win the riding championship of the meeting 15 straight times, and he's ahead at the moment to make it 16.

Shoemaker started out as Willie but now prefers plain Bill, which most everyone around the race track calls him.

However, unlike another riding Willie — pardon, Bill Hartack — Shoe doesn't object to Willie. He won't even snarl when you call him that.

Land Management Booklet Has Interesting Facts, Pictures

STEVENS

With weather such as we have been having, all who are house-bound take time to catch up on past and present events that, to the outdoorsman, will interest our readers.

In my case, I began to straighten my files, not really looking for a subject to set forth in today's column, but, as it has happened in the past, I only got started when, among the papers I had set aside for a future column, I brought to light a booklet sent me by the Bureau of Land Management. A letter from Dan Saults and a release from the Bureau in Washington accompanied the booklet, suggesting that I might find some interesting ammunition for my papers.

The bokolet in question is Lands. It consists of 35 pages of highly interesting and instructive words and pictures. The colored photography is by an expert; the editorial matter extremely interesting. I quote from the introduction: "Wildlife! The word evokes a spirit of freedom, an image of untamed creatures roving free over their natural habitat. By definition the word means animal life beyond the confines of civilation. As civilization spreads, wild animals retreat."

THE INTRODUCTION goes on to explain that some wild animals find new lands similar to the old. Others adapt to a new environment . . . some of the last large areas of the country still providing wildlife with a free and natural way of life are those remaining in the public domain—the public lands.

Among these lands are some 465 million acres in the western states and Alaska administered by the Bureau of Land Management. This amazingly varied country ranges from desert to tundra.

AS I have stated above, the booklet is replete with pictures, pictures that hold such an appeal to the outdoors lovers, that an almost irristible urge to make plans to spend the 1965 vacation at one or more of the vividly depicted scenes in the booklet, assails him.

Okay, I have spoken. If you think I have been overly enthusiastic over a mere booklet, why not spend 35 cents to get the proof. Write for a copy of "Wildlife on the Public Lands," to the Superintendent of Documents, U. S. Government Printing Office, Washington, D. C. 20240. Enclose check or cash to the amount of 35 cents.

FORMULA VEE CAR SHOW SATURDAY

Volkswagen powered open wheeled Formula Vee race cars from throughout Northern California will be on display at a unique "What's a Vee?" car show Saturday at Northgate Automotive in Terra Linda.

The show, open to the public free of charge, will start at 2 p.m. The show will have examples of each type of Formula Vee car currently raced in the area, as well as the recently created Scorpio, from the Sports Car Race Lab in Colma.

Along with the display will be race films, slides and plenty of "bench racing" in an attempt to inform the public about the Vees. Other Vee enthusiasts showing cars, in both finished and under construction forms, include Chuck Tatum and Jerry Demele with their Stockton built Crusaders. Several builders will be on hand to give aid or tips on the Formula Vee cars.

14 Dodgers Sign Contracts For '65

LOS ANGELES (AP)— The Los Angeles Dodgers say they have received signed 1965 baseball contracts from four more players, making a total of 14 now in the fold.

General Manager E.J. (Buzzi) Bavasi said contracts came in yesterday from veteran utility infielder Dick Tracewski, 29; third baseman - outfielder Derrell Griffith, 21; catcher Jeff Torborg, 23, and second baseman Nate Oliver, 24.

Eagles In The Army

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Nate Ramsey and Joe Scarpati, defensive backs for the Philadelphia Eagles of the National Football League, left yesterday for six months duty with the Army.

They will finish their training in time to report to the Eagles' training camp next summer.

Conservation Main Goal For New MRGC President

Milburn Zell Plans To Boost Membership, Too

By GLENN BECKER

Cling peaches are his business, but conservation is likely to be the main interest this year of Milburn N. Zell of 40 Rosemont Avenue, San Anselmo, the new president of the Marin Rod and Gun Club.

"We intend to concentrate on conservation, while increasing the membership. There are more than 2,000 members now," he stated, "and we want to get them interested in conservation and get them more active.

"We hope to have more projects like the one at Paper Mill Creek, where we assisted in cleaning up all the debris that had piled up there. We intend to participate with the Boy Scouts more, also."

The first object of Zell's presidential attention is the club's 38th annual banquet on Jan. 23 at the clubhouse at Point San Quentin. Then he has to help prepare for the family picnic in July.

Zell was installed as president Dec. 18, succeeding Robert Fagg of Terra Linda. He has been a member of the club for 10 years.

He explained his interest in the club in this way: "I am a sportsman and I believe in conservation, which is the backbone of the club."

Zell and his family have lived in Marin since 1954, when they moved from San Clemente in southern California. They first lived at 1345 San Anselmo Avenue and moved to their present address in July, 1960. He and his wife Ferne have two children, Jim, 20, a student at College of Marin who soon will enter the Coast Guard, and Martha, 17, a junior at Sir Francis Drake High School.

A friendly man who retired four years ago Thursday from 25 years service in the Marines, Zell is a 47-year-old native of Salem, Ohio, whose military career has taken him to Hawaii, Guadalcanal, Guam, and about a dozen different states.

MILBURN N. ZELL
A conservationist

In one of these, Pennsylvania, while serving as a recruiting non-commissioned officer in Pittsburg, he met his wife, the former Ferne Greenfield, whom he married in 1942.

In 1957 he was promoted to the newly created post of sergeant-major, one of only 186 men in the entire Marine Corps to receive this rank. He is now on inactive duty with the Fleet Marine Corps Reserve, 12th Reserve District, San Francisco.

Zell pursued his conservation interests even while in the service. He was a member of the Sportsmen's Club at Camp Pendleton, near San Diego, for four years, a "very active" club.

He now works as shipping and receiving supervisor for the Cling Peach Advisory Board in San Francisco. Using military parlance, Zell says the board is "primarily a liaison" between growers and marketers of cling peaches, which is mainly a canning peach grown in the Sacramento and San Joaquin Valleys.

He says this job is "set up about the same" as the Marines. "It has a manager for this and a manager for that. It's the same thing. It's very interesting, dealing with people from all over the country as I do."

One thing is for certain. When this veteran Marin recruiting NCO says he intends to bolster the membership of his club, you can be sure he'll do it. So come on, you local sportsmen: The Marin Rod and Gun Club wants you!

An Eyeful For Bay Area Sail Buffs

Sailing buffs will get an eyeful when hte sailboat fleet drops anchor at the 21st annual San Francisco National Sports and Boat Show at the Cow Palace, Feb. 5 through 14, where craft of every class and priced to fit every purse will be featured.

Among the early entries is the 35-foot Magellan Motorsailer, a sloop rigged diesel motorsailer built by American Marine, Ltd., of Hong Kong, and the first long range motorsailer to be shown in the San Francisco show. It has a range of 1,200 miles under power alone, and unlimited range under sail.

The Rhodes 19, a sleek and handsome racing craft designed by Philip Rhodes and built by the O'Day Corporation, is another new entry. It has a price tag of $2,395 and is of fiberglas construction.

The "Cat Sailer," a trim little craft built by Lancaster Boat Corp., America's largest dinghy manufacturer, is made of one-piece Linearglass and is priced at $179.50.

All the top makes of sailboats, both foreign and domestic, will be featured during the 10-day motors, cruisers, fishing, hunting and camping equipment will be on display.

Doors will be open daily from 2 to 11 p.m., Saturdays from 11 a.m. until 11 p.m., and Sundays from 11 a.m. until 7 p.m.

New York Mets Sign Kranepool

NEW YORK (UPI) — Ed Kranepool, 20-year-old first baseman for the New York Mets, has signed his 1965 contract for a sum believed to be over $10,000. The signing of Kranepool, a .257 hitter last season, brought to three the number of players in the Met fold.

All-Star Addition

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — The East squad added defensive end Don Floyd of the Houston Oilers yesterday to its roster for the American Football League All-Star game here Jan. 16.

Floyd is a 245 pound, 5-year veteran with the Oilers. His addition brought the East team up to full strength for the game.

MARIN ARCHERS

Hicklin Honored As '64 Sportsman

Harry Hicklin, athletic trainer at College of Marin, was named Sportsman of the Year by the Northwoods Bowmen's Club at its annual dinner Monday night in Novato.

The winner of the award, the club's highest, is picked by a committee of previous sportsmen of the year winners. Qualification for the award is based on highest standards of good sportsmanship and gentility, according to a club spokesman. Carlton Melin of Tamalpais Valley, 1963 winner, made the presentation.

HARRY HICKLIN
Sportsman of year

Trophies were presented to John Perry, Merle Hicklin, Patti Makinson, Stu Wiedenmiller, Lowell Jennings, Fred Rosenberg, Fred Del Pino, Kris Barnett and Harry Hicklin.

The dinner was emceed by club president Stan Makinson and was attended by 40 archers and their guests. Speaker of the evening and installing officer for the club's 1965 administration was Bob Heilberg, president of the Northern California Field Archery Assn.

Officers installed were Stan Makinson of Novato, president; Bob Barnett of San Rafael, vice president; Ebert Jensen of San Rafael, treasurer, and John Perry of Novato, secretary.

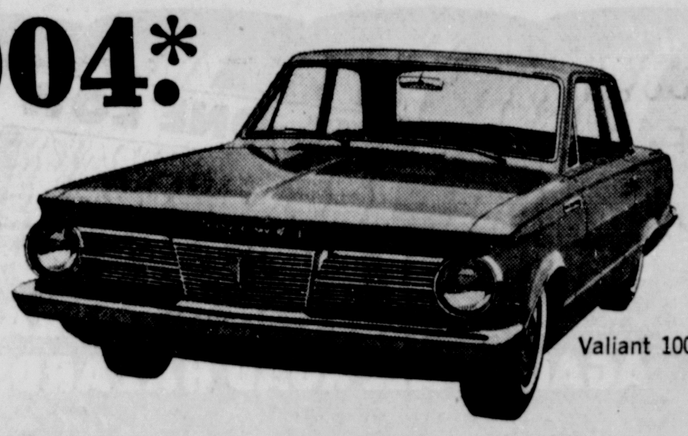

Directors installed were Herb Ames of Santa Venetia, Merle Hicklin of Kentfield, Carl Anderson of Novato, Patti Makinson of Novato and Fred Del Pino of San Anselmo.

Plea Is Changed To Manslaughter

On recommendation of District Attorney Bruce B. Bales, Judge Thomas K. Keating accepted the plea and sentenced Ruiz to up to 10 years imprisonment, to run concurrently with his present term of five years-to-life for a 1961 conviction of possession of a knife at Soledad Prison in Monterey County.

Ruiz's plea came during the second day's selection of a jury from a 160-person panel. He was charged with the Nov. 15, 1963, stabbing death of fellow prisoner Antonio Chacon in the San Quentin adjustment center.

A second count, that of assault on another person with a deadly weapon while serving a life term—the same incident as the murder charge—was then dismissed by Judge Keating on recommendation of Bales.

Bales said reason for his recommendation on the manslaughter plea was that his prosecution was based entirely on circumstantial evidence and "I'm convinced we only had one of several killers."

He said he was certain Ruiz either killed or assisted in Chacon's slaying, but had no eye witness. Chacon and Ruiz were two of seven inmates being taken to a top floor by two guards, according to the investigation. Chacon was stabbed and Ruiz was seen running down the steps.

Chacon died 15 minutes later of chest wounds, and a blood-stained knife was later found on the roof of the nearby library building, apparently thrown there from an adjustment center window.

Ruiz originally was received at Soledad Prison on a Kern County felony conviction Dec. 22, 1959, for possession of a deadly weapon in a case involving a murder and with three other defendants. Ruiz was sent to San Quentin following the 1961 knife-possession conviction.

Vehicle Fee Funds Given To County

Marin County governments received $110,199.23 as their share of revenue from motor vehicle license fees collected between June 1 and Nov. 30, state controller Alan Cranston reported today.

Marin County itself received $58,281.98. San Rafael received $11,600.61, Novato, $11,185.83; San Anselmo, $5,756.78; Mill Valley, $5,148.34; Corte Madera, $3,627.24; Larkspur, $3,451.73; Fairfax, $3,124.10; Sausalito, $2,878.39; Tiburon, $2,850.31; Ross, $1,193.95; Belvedere, $1,099.87.

The funds are re-distributed by the state on the basis of population with counties getting 40 cents per capita and cities getting 47 cents per capita.

College To Seek Aide For Building

Trustees of Marin Junior College District tonight will consider creation of a new administrative job to control and plan new college construction and development.

The meeting will begin at 8 p.m. in room 24 of Harlan Hall.

The board discussed the idea last month as a means of holding down construction costs and making sure there is full coordination of new works.

In there is time, trustees will also discuss faculty salaries for the next school year. This item, however, is listed on the agenda as one that can be held over until next meeting.

The board will also consider $5 fines for students for late registration and late final examinations.

Juvenile Officer Training Set

Corte Madera Police Sgt. David L. McIntosh will go to Pacific Grove this weekend to take part in a six-day training course for juvenile officers.

McIntosh is one of 26 representatives of California police departments or sheriff's offices who will attend the session, which runs from Sunday through Jan. 16.

It will be the eighth such course sponsored jointly by the California Youth Authority, the state Department of Justice and the delinquency control institute of the University of Southern California.

Jewish Center 'Fun Fest' Set

The spring semester of Friday "fun fest" classes at the Marin Jewish Community Center in San Rafael will begin tomorrow at 3:30 p.m.

Children from kindergarten to the sixth grade will be offered classes in guitar playing, judo, conversational French, painting ceramics, block printing, sculpture and dancing.

January field trips for kindergarten to sixth graders include a trip to the San Francisco Children's Ballet Saturday; a tour conducted by the Audubon Society to the society's center at the Richardson Bay wildlife sanctuary Jan. 16; and a sightseeing day in San Francisco Jan. 23.

Vandals Ransack School Offices

Vandals entered the nurse's office, main office and shop at Richardson Bay School in Sausalito during Tuesday night, ransacked all three and scattered papers around, but apparently took nothing, police said today.

Entry was made to the nurse's office through an unlocked window and to the other two places by breaking windows. Mrs. Orpha Barnes, custodian, reported the break-ins at 7:35 a.m. yesterday.

There are approximately 15,000 individual parts in your car.

The Coat Tale Is Subtle And Skinny

By GAY PAULEY

NEW YORK (UPI)—The coat tale for spring rides in on a simple message—skinny.

"All pure shape, neat of shoulder with long skinny sleeves, narrow body lines, subtly cut and detailed to emphasize the lean look," is the way one coat manufacturer summarizes the spring trend.

The firm, Orginala of New York, is pretty representative of what the whole industry is doing. Coats button in both double or single-breasted closings, come with neat, small collars or no collars at all, and if belted, usually have the belts slung low around the hips. A few coats are belted at the back only, but the belts are placed low. A few also have unpressed pleats falling from the low belting.

THESE SLIM NUMBERS are the types of coats almost always seen on Mrs. John F. Kennedy, whose style influence continues to be strong. Her love of the sleeveless look, for instance, should be watched for not only in day dresses this spring but in constumes too.

To help keep the coat silouette slim, designers have used smooth fabrics more often than bulky ones—among them gabardines, whipcords, thin flannels, silk and worsted combinations.

DOMINANCE OF the skinny coat was a major trend showing in the new ready-to-wear collections from members of the New York couture group, which this week is staging its 44th semi-annual "National Press Week" for 250 reporters on newspapers, television and radio. Early next week, the American designers group will hold its formal shows for many of the same reporters.

ANOTHER BIG TREND for spring will be the costume. It will be in dresses and jackets, dresses and coats, coats and suits, in prints, plaids, combinations of silks and wools, and in everything from the most tailored of day clothes to the most fabulous sweep of formals.

Typical for day is Maurice Rentner's suit plus coat costume. A bright red and white checked suit is topped with a solid navy reversible coat. The other side repeats the red and white check.

Lynn Howard Becomes Bride

The wedding of Lynn Howard, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Frank H. Howard of San Rafael, and Alfred W. Barthel of Los Angeles was held on Dec. 22 in the bride's home.

Lane Retallick of San Rafael was maid of honor in a green brocade dress and Gary Mullin of Los Angeles was best man.

Lynn attended San Rafael High School and the University of California at Santa Barbara and Los Angeles. She is a student at Chouinard Art School. She is the sister of Bruce Howard.

THE SUBURBAN SCENE

Railroading Below Border

By MOLLY MARIN

Unusual and exceptionally beautiful Christmas decorations were among the highlights of a trip for Mr. and Mrs. Carl W. Spring and Mrs. John E. Koenig of Sausalito who returned on Sunday from a tour of Mexico. They left on Dec. 17 in a group that chartered two pullman cars — one having a dining car—which were attached to United States and Mexican trains. They entered Mexico at Juarez and proceeded south to Morelia, almost to Mexico City.

They found the Christmas decorations beautiful everywhere, whether they were in tiny places or big cities, and in Mexico City they were done all in neon lights.

FROM MEXICO CITY they went as far south as Oaxaca, where they saw the Elmer Palmquists of San Anselmo, who are spending two months driving through Mexico. At Fortin the Springs and Mrs. Koenig attended a Christmas Eve posada party on the private estate of the hotel owner.

After visiting Vera Cruz on the Gulf of Mexico they rereturned to Mexico City for two days, then went on to Guadalajara where they met the Stanley Cowens of Sausalito, also on a Mexican tour.

At Mazatlan they enjoyed the beaches before going to Chihuahua, and found that the new Al Pacifico Railroad that runs from San Blas to Chihuahua goes through 73 tunnels and spectacular mountain country. The travelers returned to the United States via El Paso.

MRS. GEORGE SILVER of Terra Linda was the guest of honor at a buffet supper and dance on Sunday in Santa Cruz given by her cousin, Frank Colburn at his home. The Silvers greeted some 50 friends from the Salinas and Santa Cruz areas who Mrs. Silver had known when she lived in that area.

THE ROBERT M. LEE family of the Country Club Tract in San Rafael have enjoyed the holidays in Hawaii, where they visited several of the islands and with their friends. With them were their children, Robert Jr., Kathy and Parker Lee.

Loretta Lindgren Weds Stanley Hausten Norton

Thornton Methodist Church in Thornton, Ill. was the setting for the wedding of Loretta Jean Lindgren and Stanley Hausten Norton, son of Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Norton of Greenbrae.

The bride, whose parents are Mr. and Mrs. Arney Lindgren of Thornton, recited vows in a white floor length brocade gown. Mrs. Ted Wilmes of Chicago was her matron of honor, and bridesmaids were Mrs. Luanne Racine of Kansas City, Mo. and Laurie Link of Evergreen Park, Ill. They wore moss green crepe gowns.

Douglas Norton was best man for his son, and the ushers were Ted Wilmes of Chicago and the bride's brother, David Lindgren of Rosamond, Calif.

The couple will live in Long Beach.

Loretta was graduated from Northern Illinois University in DeKalb with a degree in education and has been a teacher.

The bridegroom was graduated from Bend High School and Oregon State University and attending graduate business school at the University of California at Los Angeles. Keith, Craig and Leighton Norton are his brothers, and he is the grandson of Stanley Norton of Sonoma.

Sylvan Circle Sale In Novato Jan. 16

The rummage sale of the Sylvan Circle 115 United Ancient Order of Druids' of Novato will be held at the Druids Hall in Novato from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m., Jan. 16.

The circle has been collecting items since last spring, according to Mrs. George Whitten. Mrs. Whitten and Mrs. Sebastian Tallitsch are in charge of collections for the sale.

Others assisting with the sale are Mesdames Ivan Johnson, Robert Listman and Bertram York. Proceeds will be used for a scholarship and to send a delegate to the convention.

San Anselmo Is Setting For Harris-Craig Rites

The First Presbyterian Church in San Anselmo was the setting Saturday for the wedding of Lovetta Louise Craig, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Neil Craig of Novato, and Howard L. Harris of Oakland.

The Rev. Henry Kuizenga performed the double ring ceremony as the bride was given in marriage by her father. She wore a floor length gown of peau de soie re-embroidered with Alencon lace, bugle beads and seed pearls with full chapel train and elbow length veil.

Mrs. Jeffrey L. Pace of Alameda, the former Gail Croisant of Novato, was matron of honor. Bridesmaids were Kathe Robinson of Novato, Mrs. Joseph Basehore of Arizona, the former Barbara Whitlock of Novato, and Pam Harris, the bridegrooms sister, of Oakland.

Jeffrey L. Pace of Alameda was best man for the bridegroom. Ushers were Rich Walden of Oakland, Clifford Craig, the bride's twin brother and Hank Phelan of Oakland.

Following a reception in the church parlors, the couple is spending a week of skiing at Heavenly Valley.

Lovetta was graduated from Novato High School and attended College of Marin. She is the sister of Mrs. Roger Keesing of San Francisco and Clifford of Novato. She is presently employed at the Pacific Gas and Electric Company in San Francisco.

Howard is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Howard E. Harris of Oakland. He was graduated from Oakland High School and attended Oakland City College. His grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Howard H. Harris of Alameda and Mr. and Mrs. Sam Oliveria of Oakland.

The newlyweds will make their home in Alameda where Howard is employed with Ben C. Gerwick Co.

Angel Coiffures Captivate Europe

By VIVIAN BROWN
AP Newsfeatures

An "American angel look" has just taken European hairdressers by storm. And not by design, says Larry Moore of Cincinnati, the first Amreican hair stylist to win the coveted golden rose award of the Paris festival of hairdressing.

The look that "floored European hairdressers" was the happy combination of American beauty and hair artistry, says Moore, a boyish 36-year-old.

"Everyone who saw the world competitions in Switzerland and the finals later in France was dazzled. It was the Italians who dubbed the girls 'the little angels,' and they looked it," says Moore, "with their honey blond hair, white beaded dresses and perfect makeup."

IN GAINING POINTS to cap the award, Moore was emphasizing his pet look, naturalness. He has long believed in convertible hairdos that can go from daytime styles to evening styles with the addition of a small hairpiece.

"If women learned how to use hair pieces, it would offset contrived hairdos, heavily lacquered balloon heads and other formal hairdos worn to the grocery store—as out of place there as wearing cocktail dresses to shop in."

Many hairdressers in Europe showed these styles, and they looked offbeat next to the neat, casual American styles, he says.

THE SECOND HAIRDO, styled for a ball and recombed from the daytime style, was in a Directoire mood, sort of Madame Recamier, he says.

He converted it from side to center, creating a triangular look of the head with a lift at the crown and bangs — "a neat, stylish, small head with soft bangs that looked like those women wore after the French Revolution when they cut their hair with sheep shears," he explains. It was the only head in the competition that took on a completely new silhouette, he says, and the applause was a tribute to the triumph.

The third hairdo was a young style with eyebrow bangs and a slight lift to the crown. He describes it as a free-flowing movement of hair.

MOORE CAN'T TOP his trophy now, but he can always learn more about hairdressing, he says. Hairdressers in his three shops have won more than 50 awards, so he's glad to be bringing home the biggest of them all.

Foreign Style Show Will Be Highlight

"World of Enchantment" will be presented at the luncheon of the Officers' Wives Club at Hamilton Air Force Base at 12:30 p.m. on Tuesday. Sponsors are the wives of the 4435th Air Transport Squadron and the 78th Deputy for Material.

The program will be presented by an airline and will feature a special collection of international festival costumes from all over the world. Mary Gordon, airline representative, will give a packing demonstration entitled "Let's Take the Ravel Out of Travel."

Mrs. Jack Umbaugh is luncheon chairman, assisted by Mesdames Teddy Dudek, Joseph Patrick, and Ronald E. Bryan. Mrs. Richard Blondin is reservations chairman.

Bridge Classes Start Next Week

Three new morning classes for bridge players will start next week, Mrs. James C. Myers of Kentfield announced today.

The classes, to be held for eight consecutive weeks, will be as follows:

Tuesday from 10 a.m. to noon, at Art and Garden Center, Ross, for intermediate players.

Wednesday, 10 to noon, at Tiburon Peninsula Club, intermediates.

Thursday, 10 to noon, Art and Garden Center, intermediate II (those who have attended previous classes by Mrs. Myers) for more advanced play.

Mrs. Myers teaches the Charles Goren system.

Holy Family Guild Installs Officers

Mrs. Alfred Ruggiero was installed as president of the Holy Family Guild of Marin on Monday at the sisters' convent in San Anselmo.

New board and committee members are Mesdames Lewis Schwab, Joseph Nannery, Martha Goolis, Jack Hite, E. J. Burns, Harold Bates, Arthur Luchetti, Rudy Mullins, Mary Halligan and William G. Fahey.

Dance Classes

The spring session of the Doris and George Clifford dance classes will open Jan. 15 at Greenbrae School. Classtime is 8 p.m. Mrs. Mervyn Dowd of Kentfield is heading enrollment.

Movie Series For Children Will Open In Terra Linda

The Peter Pan Chapter of the Children's Home Society has completed plans for their Saturday children's movies which will be held this year at the Bernard Hoffman School in Terra Linda.

Mrs. Robert Jordan of San Rafael and Mrs. Harry Jacobson of San Anselmo, co-chairmen of the series, announced that four outstanding movies will be shown this year. The movies will begin at 1 p.m. and end at 3 p.m. Peter Pan members will be on hand to greet the children.

All proceeds will be used to further the adoption services of the Children's Home Society.

The movies to be shown are: Jan. 9—Courage of Lassie; Jan. 16 — National Velvet; Jan. 23—Adventures of Huckleberry Finn; Jan. 30 — The Human Comedy.

The first three movies will be in color, and the last in the series will be in black and white.

Mrs. Jacobson announced that ice cream will be given to all children attending the first movie. Parents wishing to make reservations for birthday parties may call her.

A COZY EVENING BY THE FIRE

Everyone has been grumbling about the weather that has been spoiling so many couples' plans for an evening out and has come close to giving all of us a case of "cabin fever." Might I suggest that there is one thing that can be done about it when your family comes home tired and wet and that is to gather 'round the fireplace for the warmth and cheer that dispels all thought of rain.

Too many of us here in normally sunny Marin use our fireplace as just another opening in the wall along with windows and doors — something that might be architecturally interesting but too often ignored. With just a small amount of care it can become a focal point for the entire room and reflect far more than heat but character and friendliness as well.

To enjoy it fully you must first have an adequate firescreen and tools and these are a specialty of ours for we have them made exactly to the measurements of your fireplace at amazingly low cost. Now they come in a great variety of metal finishes and trims and can add glamor to an otherwise dull wall area. But our help does not stop just there and we have searched everywhere to make a suitable collection of interesting wall treatments for use above the mantel. Right now I am looking at one piece that is a series of fleur-de-lis, linked together with a gracefully draped chain and subtly lighted from behind to cast a warm glow over the fireplace area and add charm to a wood panelled or natural stone facing. Other suggestions are unusual framed mirrors, statuary and a collection of reproductions of coats of arms handsomely mounted on felt and framed.

Now that the fireplace is dressed in a more becoming fashion how does the entire family go about making use of it? You might investigate the colorful floor cushions that can be drawn up or the modern version of the traditional cricket chairs (remember the cricket that sat by the fire?). Fireside benches have returned to favor and are smarter than ever—some showing the Spanish influence with their graceful wrought iron curled legs and velvet seats.

For a splash of color try using one of our new area rugs of soft, deep wool as a hearth rug and a wonderful place to curl up and just listen to the sound of the rain. Why fight it — just lean back and enjoy an old fashioned evening around the fire. Could be I'll pick up some marshmallows on my way home tonight!

64 School Board Seats At Stake

Sixty-four school board seats, including at least two on every board but one in Marin County, will be at stake in an election April 20.

The vote will come eight days after the San Rafael municipal election, in which two seats on the San Rafael Board of Education will be filled.

The list of trustees whose seats are involved includes three short-term members of the new seven-man board created by merger of Novato and San Jose school districts as the new Novato Unified School District.

The three, Gordon M. Leathers, Marett B. Boissevain and William H. Kirk, will be in the odd position of having their terms run out before the district they represent actually comes into being.

The explanation is that, while the new unified district does not become an entity until July 1, its board has existed since shortly after the unification was approved Nov. 3. This has given trustees the chance to complete such necessary tasks as hiring teachers and putting together a budget before they begin running the new district.

Officials had hoped all seven could complete full terms, but an attorney general's ruling held that Leathers, Boissevain and Kirk, who polled fewer votes than the other four, must run for re-election in April or be out of office June 30.

Also expiring will be the terms of four members of the Marin County Board of Education. They are president Robert G. Randolph, Arnold Dolcini, Mrs. Edith Kanoff and Patrick Pollock.

Would-be candidates for any of the boards may file at the county schools office in the Marin Civic Center any time from next Monday through March 5.

Dixie—Lawrence Kramer Jr., Mrs. Dorothy Brown and John A. Starkweather.

Larkspur—John W. Boyd, John R. Cunningham and Jack L. Mengel.

Marin Junior College—Robert E. Oliver and Kent O. Seymour.

Mill Valley—William L. Clark, Mrs. Joyce R. Gross and Edward A. Kemp.

Reed—Mrs. Alyce L. Farkas, Richard J. MacLaury and Leo Souza.

Tamalpais High — William B. Lewis, Dr. Delman D. Smith and Edmund J. Thomas Jr.

Tomales Bay — Walton Burbank, A. L. Cunninghame Jr., Merle E. Lawson and Mrs. Jeanne Vilicich.

Members of the San Rafael Board of Education whose terms expire for the April 12 election are Mrs. Bella H. Aaron and John M. Bagshaw. Filing for the San Rafael board will open March 5 and close March 19.

For 70 of her 86 years, Bertha Spafford Vester, an American, has founded and run schools and hospitals for the people of the Holy Land, whether be Moslem, Christian or Jew. She is the only woman to wear the Jordan Star, third class, awarded by King Hussein.

Teen-Age Problems To Be Topic

"Teen-age sex and pregnancy" will be the topic for Sunday's opening session of the 1965 series of Town Hall forums sponsored by the Unitarian Church of Marin.

Panelists will include children's home staff member Mary Butler, Dr. Solomon Cohen and high school co-ed Darrah Hall, with Robert F. Kaufmann as moderator. Statements from the panelists will be followed by audience questions.

The forum, from 8 to 10:15 p.m., will be in the Tamalpais Center Woman's Club, College Avenue, Kentfield. Admission is free.

Speaker Unit Forms For Blood Center

The group plans to make its members available to speak to service clubs, as well as social, church and other groups in hopes of publicizing the center's activities.

Welfare Campaign Leader To Speak

Gold Watch, Chain Reported Stolen

Dr. Hugh A. Cregg reported a gold watch and chain were stolen from his office at 19 East Blithedale Avenue, Mill Valley, between last Saturday and Tuesday, police said today.

Entry was made through a window which was broken out by the burglar. A doctor's bag and file cabinets were rummaged, said Cregg.

Maritime Cadet Exams Slated

California Maritime Academy in Vallejo will hold examinations Feb. 6, March 6 and April 3 for high school graduates wishing to enter next fall.

State Sen. John F. McCarthy (R-San Rafael) said today information on the examinations may be obtained by writing him at 3082 State Capitol, Sacramento, or the dean, California Maritime Academy, Vallejo.

Senator McCarthy will have one nominee for the academy. He said he will nominate the Marin youth meeting entrance requirements and scoring highest in examination. Others with passing scores may be admitted if vacancies permit.

Fluoridation Is 20 Years Old But Don't Look For Celebrations

By CHARLES SCHAEFFER
Advance News Service

WASHINGTON — Community fluoridation is 20 years old next month. But don't look for any D-Day-like celebration.

The U.S. Public Health Service, which backs fluoridation, plans to let the event slip by with just a few subtle reminders. With good reason.

Even after two decades, fluoridation is a battle cry to die-hard opponents. The government's information files here already bulge with anti-fluoridation literature and charges. The last thing officials seek is a new barrage of allegations.

Community flouridation was born in January 1945. State and city health officials at Grand Rapids, Mich., turned a valve letting a trace of fluoride (one part in one million gallons of water) into the water supply. Later the same year, fluoride went into the water of Newburgh, N.Y., and Brantford, Ontario, Canada.

The decision followed 15 years of research — stimulated by a discovery in late 1930 that tooth decay was astonishingly low in communities where the level of natural flouride was high.

Could the chemical be added artificially to water supplies and cut cavities, too? By 1951 and 1952 the answer came in strong at Grand Rapids: 65 per cent less tooth decay among children who drank fluoridated water from birth; 45 per cent among children who were 5 to 6 years old when the program started, and 20 per cent less among those who were teen-agers.

Researchers at the National Institute of Dental Research here recently reviewed the Grand Rapids results and confirmed the earlier conclusions. Teen-agers who had drunk fluoridated water all their lives had a 50 per cent lower decay incidence. The scientists said they observed only four of 1,031 children who had "mildly mottled teeth," an occasional side effect.

Initially, the fluoridation idea spread quickly. It was picked up and endorsed by groups not always agreeing on other things. Among them were U.S. Public Health Service, the Dental Research Institute, the American Dental Assn., the American Medical Association, the National Academy of Sciences-National Research Council, the American Cancer Society, and the American Pharmaceutical Association.

Today, about two-thirds of all big metropolitan areas have fluoridated water, including St. Louis, San Francisco, Chicago, Baltimore, Philadelphia, Pittsburgh, Milwaukee, Houston and Minneapolis.

A few years ago, Congress voted appropriations for fluoridating the water of Washington, D.C. The New York City Council has approved fluoridation and the city expects to start the program in the spring, though a suit asking the courts to hold it up is pending.

Kansas City, Mo., has decided to de-fluoridate. Though this is no national trend, fluoridation has been losing ground over the past 10 years.

Advocates are reading last November's election results for more hopeful signs. In communities where the ballots offered voters the choice of continuing or starting fluoridation, eight said yes, and 15 said no.

However, in the eight communities, voters overwhelmingly okayed fluoridation, while past victories on referenda have been cliff-hangers.

Mostly, any movement to flouridate has triggered a fight, dividing friends, neighbors, civic and social and professional organizations. It has engendered bitterness and name-calling and outright lies.

Those who favor the idea sometimes charge that obstructionists are blocking the benefits of a demonstrated scientific advance. Dissenters, including a few doctors and scientists, argue that the safety of long-term use of even traces of fluoride is unproved. More emotional types even brand fluoridation a "communist plot."

Some 48 million Americans presently are drinking fluoridated water — only a quarter of the population. Less than half are children under 14 years, the age when the authorities say fluoride helps most.

Rumford Act Still In Effect

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The State Fair Employment Practices Commission said yesterday that real estate agents and officers still are bound to provisions of the Rumford Act even though Proposition 14 nullified certain portions of the act for property owners.

The FEPC's statement was released by Clive Graham, FEPC chairman.

It read, in part:

"While the new amendment refers to owners of residential property with respect to their decisions on rentals or sales, it does not change the coverage by existing law of individuals, associations, or corporate entities engaged in dealing in homes or rental units of which they are not owners."

Graham said this means real estate brokerage offices and lenders or financial institutions which serve the housing market are still covered by the law.

"To all members of the 89th Congress and all future congresses in hopes that — like Sam Rayburn — they will labor under the great white dome of the Capitol with the same faith in the people and the same nobility of purpose."

The president was only a spectator, coming late for the ceremonies in which tribute was paid to Rayburn, speaker of the House longer than anyone else in history.

He heard Mrs. Johnson's speech, much of which quoted from his own tribute delivered at a dinner shortly after Rayburn's death of cancer on Nov. 16, 1961. Johnson had said Rayburn "was younger than any of us" and "one thing he disliked more than old fogies was, as he put it — young fogies."

The president wasn't there earlier, though, when a fellow Texan, Democratic Rep. Wright Patman, took the occasion to defend the Rayburn building against criticism that it was excessively costly. It is expected ultimately to cost more than 95 million dollars. Some put the figure at 122 million dollars.

Patman said the cost was 86.4 million dollars — "not an extravagance, but a sound buy and a solid success from every aspect of fiduciary common sense."

He said "it may be described as a bargain of the first magnitude, except by those who think in the dismal financial language of the 1930s."

Accepting the statue, donated by the Texas State Society of Washington, Rayburn's successor, Speaker John W. McCormack (D-Mass.) called it "a shrine from which Americans and people of good will everywhere will draw inspiration, for the great causes that, under God, improve the lot of the human race."

State Should Declare War On Drunken Drivers

The mounting toll of traffic accidents and deaths on the highways has been the target of official "alarm" for years.

There is growing indication that the alarm is beginning to ring a bell with the motoring public, which has been apathetic thus far.

It's about time the public was aroused. California, the pace setter in traffic fatalities, outdid itself with the greatest mass highway slaughter in history during the New Year's holiday weekend.

A poll of nearly 10,000 motorists, conducted by the California Traffic Safety Foundation, shows that California citizens are dead set against coddling drunken drivers and juvenile traffic offenders.

The majority want authorities to crack down harder on habitual traffic law violators, provide better driver education and training, enact laws for stricter control of drunken drivers, and provide a program of compulsory vehicle inspection.

The use of radar to catch speeders, once frowned upon as a sneaky tactic, now has the support of 69 per cent of the motorists polled. And 58 per cent of the people now approve of traffic police using cars which are not readily identifiable as police vehicles.

Most (69 per cent) of those polled felt that traffic laws are "just about right," but not so with laws against drunken driving. Of present penalties on drunken driving, 68 per cent said they feel the laws are too lenient.

Robert B. Bradford, administrator of the Highway Transportation Agency, noted that "all California drivers have become more critical of themselves and of each other over the last few years."

Self criticism by the motoring public apparently is not enough. Efforts by the state to cut down on traffic accidents by such devices as divided highways and median barriers are apparently not enough.

It's time the growing public concern and self-criticism are translated into more restrictive laws in the state Legislature.

But someone has to take the bull by the horns and declare all-out war against violators.

President Having Glorious Honeymoon With Business

Many businessmen were repelled by Sen. Barry M. Goldwater and it is increasingly evident that they are being drawn to Johnson by his personality, his policies, and his ability to get things done.

THE LATEST proof of this fact comes from the president of the U. S. Chamber of Commerce, Walter F. Carey, who recently remarked that he had expressed confidence in Johnson last April and added, "I feel even more so now. Many other businessmen feel the same."

It may seem strange that so many of the nation's business and financial leaders should be giving their backing to a moderate - reformist, social-minded Democratic president.

THE BUSINESS and professional groups have overwhelmingly supported every Republican presidential nominee at election time and have opposed Democratic presidents most of the time.

How is it that this protege and admirer of Franklin D. Roosevelt's has achieved such rapport with the businessmen? And, more important, will it last?

THE USUAL explanations are that the president, himself a successful businessman, talks the language, appeals to businessmen as a practical fellow, and is willing to listen.

It seems to me that the explanation goes much deeper, that the business support for Johnson comes more from the conditions in which the president is functioning than from personality or background. If it didn't, this rapport would not last.

In the first place, a national climate sympathetic to business and economic growth is as vital to the success of the Johnson administration as it is to business.

If the president is going to make any headway at all toward his still undefined goals of the "Great Society," he needs an expanding federal revenue, in order to get the necessary money from Congress and to achieve or come near to balanced budgets. He needs thriving business activity to get this revenue, and accordingly, he aims to keep the climate favorable to business.

THE PRESIDENT does not intend to be dominated either by business or labor. To avoid being overinfluenced by his labor allies, he needs the open support and balance which comes from his business allies.

I expect that the rapport between the business community and Johnson will continue largely since there is no objective reason for them to fall into serious conflict. The economic conditions the president faces are far different from those FDR faced.

Johnson's overriding domestic problem is how to manage and nourish a high level of prosperity, not how to lick a depression. His problem is not how to create prosperity, but how to extend it and use it to create jobs for the present 3.5 million unemployed.

Undoubtedly the president is going to expand his "war on poverty" program and seek substantial federal aid to education. This will not frighten away business as long as he maintains the cordial national climate.

WHAT OUR READERS SAY

Different Opinion On Charity's Home

Editor, Independent-Journal:

Edith Mae Dailey seems not to know or to have forgotten lessons on charity given years ago. Correct me if I'm wrong — Was it not a pagan who said "Charity begins at home?"

Christ answered, 'And who is my neighbor?' with the parable of the Good Samaritan. Somewhere in the Bible—we also learn that we should do these things while not leaving others undone.

There really is more than enough for the poor and suffering at home and our brothers elsewhere. We have but to walk into any of the second-hand stores or thrift shops to know the over-supply — much collected in the name of charity that hangs on the racks or lies on the shelves priced above what the really needy can pay. True, much good is done by these non-profit organizations, but more could be done if the surplus—especially the heavy, non-usable clothing was all donated to ease the suffering of the poor everywhere.

Pellet Guns Not For Youngsters

Editor, Independent-Journal:

This is short and to the point. Thank you for your brickbat of last Saturday which read: "Brickbats to doting parents who gave their youngsters pellet guns and now stand idly by while the little devils take potshots at everything that moves (including other human beings) and some things that don't."

Some of my neighbors permit their offspring to shoot at little birds and God knows how many are flying about maimed and in pain because of pellet or B-B guns. Let me say that I am referring to young men 15 and over who seem to delight in hurting small creatures. A 15 - year - old should certainly know better, even if his parents have not taught him to respect life whether it be human or animal. Your other brickbat re Junior Museum visitors who killed the pet seal by tossing coins causing subsequent death of the seal was sad. Don't the parents know or comprehend the fact that others judge them by their youngsters' behavior? I still say it goes back to idiotic parents who, nowadays, are too busy partying and cocktailing to teach their kids even basic good manners.

U.C. Students Told Rights Not License

Editor, Independent-Journal:

. . . While I am a firm believer and advocate of all constitutional rights I hold that they do not license anyone to engage in treasonable or seditious acts as demonstrated by the leaders and active supporters of the FSM at U.C. in Berkeley. Freedom of speech and political action may have prompted the initial action leading to this situation, however, the instant organized resistance to law and order was advocated and put in action the cause lost its validity. There are legal and peaceful means by which one must seek if they feel their rights are denied . . .

I am aware that all people engaged in the civil rights movement are not communists however, many are. But I do say any and every one that subscribes or supports their lawless acts is guilty of treason or sedition. Furthermore I believe every so - called civil rights organization in this nation is a communist front movement. Many are proven. Evidence has been submitted to the House and Senate to this effect and is on record. . . .

I sincerely hope that this letter clarifies a couple of points for Mr. Stone of Fairfax. However I doubt that it will suffice for Mr. Lavaro of San Rafael. I will concede my recent letter was emotional. What person that is interested in preserving our way of life and Constitution against a take over by the Communists with the aid of native born subversives can be anything but emotional? For Mr. Lavaro's information the nearest thing or organization that I belong to that could be construed as being subversive is being registered Democrat in California.

Writer Recalls Declaration

Editor, Independent-Journal:

In considering the chaotic events in Viet Nam, the Congo, and Mississippi, it might be helpful to read again from the second paragraph of our Declaration of Independence: (7-4-76)

" . . . We hold these truths to be self evident: that all men are created equal: that they are endowed by their Creator with certain inalienable rights; that among these are life, liberty, and the pursuit of happiness; that, to secure these rights, governments are instituted among men, deriving their just powers from the consent of the governed: that whenever any form of government becomes destructive of these ends, it is the right of the people to alter or to abolish it and to institute a new government, laying its foundation on such principles, and organizing its powers in such form, as to them shall seem most likely to effect their safety and happiness . . . TAXPAYER GETS UPSET

A raise in his taxes so enraged one citizen in Finland that he threw furniture at employes and wrecked office equipment at the local tax office.

The grieved man was upset about the loss of certain deductions and sought relief from the revenue office. But when he felt that he was not given the sympathetic understanding that he looked for, he grabbed a telephone and threw it at the tax officer. He then struck a woman with a chair, broke light bulbs and damaged adding machines before police arrived.

You may feel justified in taking exception to the amount of taxes you pay or to other government regulations that you must comply with.

But make sure you do not resort to unreasonable methods in trying to correct a situation you regard as unreasonable. Two wrongs don't make a right.

Make it a point, therefore, to show the patience, fairness and consideration that God expects of a responsible citizen under all circumstances and you will solve problems rather than worsen them.

(Romans 13:7)

AFFAIRS OF STATE

Brown's Legislative Message Has Little That Is New In It

By HENRY C. MacARTHUR

SACRAMENTO (CNS)—Outside of the predominant issue of reapportionment, Gov. Edmund G. Brown's message to the State Legislature indicates there will be nothing new before the solons this year, only a repeat from the experiences of the past which represent the failures of his administration.

The governor's message is replete with high - sounding phrases about the demands of democracy, working in an age of discovery and change and pride in being Californians. But no place in the speech, which includes his requests for more money, is there any clear-cut suggestion for operating a business-like government.

NEW AGENCIES are suggested, such as the Business and Commerce Agency, which he urges the Legislature to create; a combination of the departments of recreation and parks, and a Department of Housing and Community Development. These would give the governor more political patronage.

Then the old cliche of creating a State Department of Revenue is revived by the governor. The State Legislature has been through this battle for several years, and so far has refused to combine revenue collecting sources, as this probably would mean the abolition of the State Board of Equalization.

Equalization members are elected by the people, while the governor's plan would give him control of the department, including a plush job for a gubernatorial appointed director.

AS FAR AS new programs go, the governor hopes the Legislature will fall in line with the president's war on poverty, which is a program many observers feel is just another method of disbursing the public's money.

He wants traffic safety programs strengthened to cut down highway carnage, chemical tests for intoxication and radar speed control. Also, seat belts in school buses. For approximately 15 years, governors have sponsored traffic safety conferences, and each year the traffic death rate increases.

Brown revived the issue of capital punishment, which was before the State Legislature 40 years ago. During four decades the sponsors of abolition have been unable to effectuate abolition.

FURTHER, THE governor wants to dabble with the initiative by preventing citizens from hiring help to put measures on the ballot. At least one initiative didn't turn out as Brown hoped (Proposition 14), so now he seeks to have the Legislature in effect prohibit measures from going on the ballot unless they are submitted by organizations other than private enterprise.

BENNETT CERF

WHAT DOES an important newspaper editor do when he stays home from the office to rest up a bit? Mrs. Turner Catledge, wife of the executive editor of the New York Times, described her distinguished husband's activities in these words to a panel of newspaper ladies: "He rearranged the refrigerator so that food could not be found for weeks, cut off the dishwasher because his mother always got along without one, and demonstrated the preparation of fried corn with such lack of success that the entire kitchen had to be repainted." Mrs. Willie Snow Ethridge, of Louisville, added that she had learned the only effective method for winning the attention of a preoccupied news magnate: "I wake my husband Mark up mighty fast by poking him with a broom."

WHAT HAVE you got, demands Pete Bernstein, of Scarsdale, when you collect 100 female pigs and 100 male deer? Give up? Okay: you have 200 sows and bucks.

PRESIDENT Herbert Hoover had a copy of this "Fisherman's Prayer" framed and hung in his study at the Waldorf Towers:

"God grant that I may fish
Until my dying day!
And when it comes to my last cast
I humbly pray,
When in God's landing net
I'm peacefully asleep,
That in His mercy I be judged
As good enough to keep."

U.S. Viet Policy Causes Big Puzzle

By ROBERT S. ALLEN And PAUL SCOTT

WASHINGTON—At least five Latin American countries are being strongly "urged" by the U. S. to send "token" military or economic units to strife-lacerated South Viet Nam.

They are Brazil, Chile, Colombia, Peru and Venezuela.

Other South American nations reputedly are under similar backstage pressure, but this has not yet been positively established.

THE FIVE definitely known to be importuned are among the leading beneficiaries of U. S. aid. Latest available official figures show that since 1946 they have received the following huge totals:

Brazil—more than 2.25 billion dollars. This does not include one billion dollars in new credits the U. S. took the lead in arranging last month, with several other NATO countries, to enable the reform regime of President Humberto Branco to combat soaring inflation and other grave economic disorders.

Chile—upwards of 850 million dollars, with new large-scale aid proposals pending. Colombia—more than 550 million, with additional grants and loans under consideration. Peru—upwards of 500 million dollars, and like the others seeking more funds. Venezuela—around 350 million dollars, of which more than 317 million has been in loans and only 18 million in outright grants. Since 1962 this oil-rich nation has received less than 10 million dollars in U. S. aid.

ALL THESE countries are markedly cool to getting involved in the increasingly chaotic and unpredictable South Viet Nam conflict.

They are displaying distinct reluctance to dispatching even "token" forces, such as medical or logistic units, or teachers, agricultural experts and technicians—as the State Department has pointedly "suggested."

Various objections are being raised, foremost among them lack of funds to meet the considerable cost of "showing the flag" in distant Southeast Asia.

Presumably that would include financing transportation, pay, maintenance and other charges.

THESE URGENT backstage exhortations and proposals are in striking contrast to the administration's cold-shouldering of offers from three U. S. allies in the Far East to send thousands of combat troops to South Viet Nam.

South Korea, Nationalist China and the Philippines expressed readiness to send about 50,000 fully equipped and trained fighting men.

In each instance, they were turned down.

THE OFFICIAL explanation was that employment of these Asian battle forces would seriously risk escalating the conflict into a major war. Secretary of State Dean Rusk asked the three allies to dispatch instead non - combat elements, such as medical and logistic units.

All three have complied.

Another baffling South Viet Nam enigma is the role of Thrich Tri Quang, leading Buddhist who was given refuge in the U. S. embassy in the 1963 struggle with the late President Ngo Dinh Diem.

U. S. Intelligence has flatly tagged Quang as an agent of Communist North Viet Nam acting on instructions from the Hanoi regime.

YET QUANG is a key adviser of both Maj. Gen. Nguyen Khanh and Buddhist members of the Civilian Council that was abolished by the so-called "young Turk" generals with Kanh's backing.

Quang also has been consulted by Deputy Ambassador U. Alexis Johnson on establishing a "stable government" in Saigon.

Early last fall former Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge visited a number of NATO capitals seeking assistance for South Viet Nam. He undertook this mission as the personal emissary of President Johnson.

Lodge's results were virtually nil.

None of the European allies offered any personnel. The only contribution was a small amount of economic aid from the Erhard regime in West Germany.

Larkspur, Corte Madera Chambers Prove To Be Study In Frustrations

THE LARKSPUR and Corte Madera chambers of commerce are together a study in hopes and frustrations.

The Larkspur chamber is the older of the two, and is crying for members but the major commercial operations in that city have not been crying to join.

The Corte Madera chamber has plenty of members, but has yet to decide what it is there for. A young organization, the Corte Madera chamber is looking for issues, not members. Both groups say they need money.

KENNETH ANDERSON, president of the Larkspur organization, predicts that Corte Madera's may have a similar history, with a big membership at the start and then dwindling interest.

The Larkspur chamber does not include as members Value World Center or the major stores of the Bon Air Shopping Center in Greenbrae. The businesses in the north part of town, including Mayor Neil Brixon's rug cleaners, have also stayed out.

IN CORTE MADERA, the new chamber has yet to decide what its job is. President Richard Burns says he feels the major effort should be to bring customers and businesses to the town. The "booster" function is primary.

But any chamber of commerce usually has another function, that of representing the business community to the city government. Corte Madera's chamber may be backing into this task through widespread dissatisfaction by large merchants over restrictions on signs.

Burns notes that sign control is probably desired by residents and that most merchants, and chamber members, do not live in Corte Madera. Burns, himself, is an attorney who lives in Mill Valley.

IT IS DIFFICULT, therefore, for him to act like a voter before the town council.

Meanwhile, in both communities, the business interests have not, for some time, been the major political force. In Larkspur, several families own the bulk of the undeveloped land, and their wishes largely determine the future of that city.

In Corte Madera, the commuters seem about to take over from the older residents, and the new, large businesses from the old family shops.

"THE BUSINESS community up to now has been voiceless," Town Mgr. Arthur H. Brandow commented recently. "The only sound so far has been from the Shopping Center Merchants' Assn., but it's been a small voice."

As a matter of fact, the business community has had a voice, but it has been an unofficial one. It has come from the Lions Club in both cities. This group continues to be active, and continues to make its feelings known to councils and city managers, although indirectly.

One thing both chambers can be expected to do soon is to lean on the Marin County Development Assn., for more support. In a recent brochure by the development Association, both Larkspur and Corte Madera were kissed off as follows:

"Corte Madera - Larkspur—residential communities. On the east side of the highway is zoned but undeveloped industrial property. The large orange building in the distance to the right is San Quentin State Penitentiary."

20 YEARS AGO

Marin County went $336,740 over quota on the Sixth War Loan drive, according to final report by the War Finance Committee. Total sales amounted to $5,138,740.

Poulation of Marin County will be 78,100 on Jan. 1, 1965, the Marin County Taxpayers Assn. predicted.

Average Person Has From Three To Five Dreams Every Night

Many people who say they rarely dream actually do so quite often. The average person has from three to five dreams a night. Customarily, dreams are in black and white. But artists and others who deal with colors have a tendency to dream in color.

SPEAKING of sleep, it has been found that coffee before bedtime won't necessarily keep you awake. The biggest cause of insomnia: The nervous fear you won't be able to go to sleep.

You don't save much money going around your house turning off lights. Only one-third of home electricity bills are for lighting. The other two-thirds represent the cost of operating electrical appliances.

The good old days: 20 U.S. Army trucks required 56 days to make the first convoy crossing of the continent from Washington, D.C., to San Francisco in 1919. One of the officers in the historic journey was a young tank captain named Dwight D. Eisenhower.

QUOTABLE notables: "The size of a man can be measured by the size of the thing that makes him angry." — J. K. Morley.

Machines are used to crush wine grapes in America, but in some parts of Europe they still are crushed by bare feet. The theory is that this adds oxygen to the pulp and the body heat helps quicken fermentation.

The effects of automation on the number of human jobs may be debatable, but there's no doubt what machinery has done to animal jobs. The 25 million horses and mules once used on U.S. farms largely have been replaced by 4.7 million tractors and 2.8 million trucks.

CAN YOU name three musical instruments that change shape during a performance? Well, how about the accordion, trombone and bagpipe?

History lesson: Who was known as "Lemonade Lucy"? She was Lucy Ware Hayes, wife of President Rutherford B. Hayes. Both she and her husband were total abstainers, and Mrs. Hayes got her nickname because of her refusal to serve anything but soft drinks at White House functions.

Only 59 per cent of America is privately owned. The federal government administers 34 per cent of the land area, 5 per cent is owned by state and local governments, and about 2 per cent is in Indian reservations.

It was Helen Keller who observed, "Life is an exciting business and most exciting when it is lived for others."

10 YEARS AGO

Forty-six new measures were announced ready for introduction at Sacramento by State Sen. John E. McCarthy and Assemblyman Richard H. McCollister. McCarthy put special interest on a request for funds to complete the second deck of the Richmond-San Rafael Bridge.

San Rafael City Council asked that a citizens committee take up the task of solving the city's flood problem.

A two and one-half million dollar bequest from the Julian Babcock Estate for a hospital or sanitarium near San Rafael was promised within the next few months.

Today is Thursday, Jan. 7, the seventh day of 1965 with 358 to follow.

The moon is approaching its first quarter. The morning stars are Mercury, Venus, Mars, Uranus, Neptune and Pluto. The evening stars are Jupiter and Saturn.

On this day in history:

In 1789, George Washington was elected president.

In 1927, regular trans-Atlantic telephone service began between New York City and London.

In 1960, British Prime Minister Harold MacMillan began a 20,000 mile tour of British Africa.

HOW TO PLAY WINNING BRIDGE

Hope For Favorable Break When Making Assumptions

Sometimes you must play a hand on the assumption that your opponent has a particular number of cards in a suit.

If one assumption is as likely as another, do yourself the favor of picking one that will work for you.

Opening lead — ♡ Q

East and West were playing a strange system in which the overcall of one notrump showed a long, topless suit. West raised notrump to show support for that suit, whatever it happened to be. The rest of the bidding was natural.

OPENING LEAD

It was all rather strange, but had the effect of telling South that East had about seven hearts and that West had a pretty good hand including the king and queen of hearts.

South took the ace of hearts, led a club to finesse with dummy's jack, and drew two rounds of trumps with the king and queen. Then he led a spade.

WRONG HOPE

South knew that West had six black cards and played him for four spades and only two clubs. South intended to play a low spade from dummy on the second round of spades, hoping that East would have to play his ace without getting anything for it.

The trouble is that South could not make the contract if his hope were accurate.

FIRST SPADE

West would win the first spade and lead the king of clubs to dummy. East would take the next spade and return a club for West to ruff. South would therefore go down if West had four spades and only two clubs.

The actual distribution was the main hope. South should overtake dummy's second high diamond with the ace to take a second club finesse.

Answer: Pass.

The hand is not worth an opening bid. You are willing to open a 12-point hand only if you have a very fine high-card structure and a major suit of five or more cards.

Educational TV Helping Samoa

By BONNIE ANGELO
Advance News Service

WASHINGTON—Television sets in thatched - roof huts are opening the door to a new kind of schooling on an American-governed island in the southwest pacific.

The United States hopes to make primitive Samoa a showcase of educational television and a model for similar programs that might bring other undeveloped areas into the 20th Century. American officials returning from Samoa are optimistic.

Now in its first weeks of operation in Pago-Pago, Samoa's capital, educational television appears full of promise to the Americans who produce it and the Samoans who receive it.

Some 7,000 children from first through sixth grades are getting their first instruction in English and other elementary subjects. Each week 90 taped lessons, ranging from five to 20 minutes, are seen on 300 television sets. Some are placed in new buildings designed for learning this modern way; others are in native huts on stilts, with pupils sitting on grass mats.

Within recent days the educational system has expanded to include night classes for adults, giving them basic instruction in such subjects as child care and self-government, laced with selected entertainment.

It's like the old days of ding - dong school and omnibus, packaged together without commercials. The sponsor is uncle Sam, who has been responsible for this Pacific paradise for half a century.

After taking a look at the sorry state of education there in 1961, the Americans in charge decided that man does not live by breadfruit alone. Corrective steps were begun.

Gov. H. Rex Lee is credited with the idea of using television. The Idaho - born Lee was appointed governor of Samoa by President Kennedy. Within three weeks of his installation in Pago-Pago, Lee was back in Washington asking for money to provide a real education system.

Lee argued that television would be the fastest, most effective and in the long run most economic method of teaching.

It allowed the minimum number of teachers brought from the mainland to reach the maximum number of pupils. It also precluded a wholesale dismissal of native teachers, who could continue to take care of the school routine and augment the TV teachers by drills and questions.

Only 39 mainlanders are currently involved in the TV school system in Samoa, and all — engineers, production specialists, and teachers — are being understudied by Samoans who will gradually take over the jobs.

Congress appropriated $1.6 million to expand the island's power supply, erect transmitters and build a broadcasting center.

An aerial tramway had to be installed to the mountain-top transmitters when engineers found that volcanic lava soil would not support the necessary supply roads. The ghosts said to haunt one part of Pago-Pago Bay had to be disturbed by cables, with no supernatural retaliation thus far.

And neither the Polynesian teachers nor their charges fully comprehend their old textbooks, written for American children. Now they are being taught by television lessons written in terms they understand — pigs and palm instead of trains and tractors.

All lessons are taped, to be used again and again.

Officials point out that the tapes form the nucleus of an electronic library that could be used anywhere in the world. Already the prince of neighboring Tonga has expressed interest in hooking onto the American system for his own people.

The program is not yet complete in Samoa, however.

Congress will be asked for additional funds to build three more sending stations to take televised teaching through the 12th grade.

Computer Works For Canines

ATLANTA (UPI) — The 106,000 dogs that inhabit Fulton County (Atlanta) have a computer going for them.

Dr. John A. Giddens, director of veterinary medical services for the county, says a computer keeps track of all dogs and when they should be re-vaccinated against rabies.

"We send out post cards to all dog owners reminding them when to have their pets vaccinated," Giddens said.

A 10-Room Chateau in Spain?
You can have it here in Mill Valley—huge, rambling, and Spanish in tone—redwood setting, leaded glass windows, 2 story living room with gallery, 4 bedrooms, 2½ baths, bar room decorated in 1920 Art Nouveau, games cottage with a fabulous hand carved pool table, charming guest cottage, green house and workshop, 3 garages. Definitely for those who appreciate the unusual! $59,000.

Fairfax View Acre
In a huge informal garden of fruit trees and flowering eucalyptus and sunshine, with a long valley view — a ranch style home of 3 bdrms. with family size living and dining, inviting deck and a patio practically big enough for a tennis court. Horse trails start at the property and go for miles. Country living at its best because schools are close enough for walking. Must be sold, so the price is right $34,950.

Sophistication

CHARTER ORDINANCE NO. 804

AN ORDINANCE OF THE CITY OF SAN RAFAEL AMENDING CHAPTER 12.12 OF THE SAN RAFAEL MUNICIPAL CODE OF SAID CITY BY ADOPTING BY REFERENCE, UNIFORM BUILDING CODE, VOLUME 1, INCLUDING THE APPENDIX AND THE SECONDARY CODE, VOLUME III, 1964 EDITIONS WITH CERTAIN ADDITIONS AND DELETIONS THERETO

THE COUNCIL OF THE CITY OF SAN RAFAEL DO ORDAIN AS FOLLOWS:

Section 1. Chapter 12.12 of the San Rafael Municipal Code is hereby amended to read as follows:

12.12.010 ADOPTION OF UNIFORM BUILDING CODE. There is hereby adopted, for the purpose of providing minimum standards to safeguard life or limb, health, property and public welfare, that certain code known as the Uniform Building Code, Volume I, and the Secondary Code, Volume III, published by the International Conference of Building Officials, 50 South Los Robles, Pasadena, California, being particularly the 1964 editions thereof and the whole thereof, including the Table of Contents, Appendix and the Index therein, save and except such portions as are hereinafter deleted, added thereto, modified, or amended, of which said Code, Amendments and Secondary Code, not less than three (3) copies have been and now are filed in the office of the Clerk of the City of San Rafael, and the same are hereby adopted and incorporated as fully as if set out at length herein, and from and after Feb. 17, 1965 the provisions thereof shall be controlling within the limits of the City of San Rafael.

12.12.020 Amendments made in Volume 1 of the Uniform Building Code. The Uniform Building Code, Volume 1, adopted by Section 12.12.010 of the San Rafael Municipal Code is amended and changed in the following respects. The sections hereinafter referred to are the section numbers of said Volume 1 of the Uniform Building Code.

Section 205. Section 205 is hereby deleted.

Permits Required. No person, firm, or corporation shall erect, construct, enlarge, alter, repair, move, improve, remove, convert or demolish any building or structure, including swimming pool, fence, wall, and retaining wall, install any automatic fire extinguisher systems, gas appliances, cold air returns, hot air outlets appurtenant to such gas appliances, flues, refrigeration system, exhaust gravity and pressure systems, commercial range hood, patent flues, storage and use of inflammable liquids in the city, or cause the same to be done, without first obtaining a separate permit from the Building Official.

TOPOGRAPHICAL SURVEY

Section 301(3). In addition to the foregoing requirements of this section any person, firm, or corporation applying for a permit for the erection or construction of a building or a structure or moving an existing building to a new location is required by the provisions of this section to file with his application for said permit a complete set of plans and specifications of the proposed building or structure. When the slope of the lot exceeds 10%, shall also file with the said set of plans and specifications duplicate copies of a plat of a survey of the property proposed to be improved by such building or structure, on which plat shall be delineated the accurate location of said proposed improvements and grades which is to be constructed. Said plat shall be drawn to a scale of not less than 1/10 inch to the foot, when area of lot exceeds 1 acre that a lesser scale may be used, and shall show contours of not more than five foot (5') intervals. Said contours shall extend to the center of the street. All required information on said plat shall be in permanent marking. The said survey shall have been made by a licensed land surveyor, a registered civil engineer of the State of California, and shall be signed by him and endorsed with his license or certificate number and shall clearly outline by appropriate stakes or marks, elevations thereon, the exterior lines of said property so to be improved and located by map or deed distance to the nearest intersecting street. When a survey is not required, there shall be filed a plot plan that shows the location of proposed improvements, lot description and dimensions, location of all easements, storm drains, existing sewers, and other information that may be required. Said plot plan shall be drawn to a scale of not less than 1/8 inch to the foot for parcels of 1 acre or less.

Section 303(a). Section 303(a) is hereby amended by adding thereto a new Table 3-B entitled. To provide for the collection of fees for the installation of gas appliances and equipment as contained in Chapter 51.

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By DR. THEODORE R. VAN DELLEN

Many Modern Cold Remedies Apply 'Shotgun' Techniques

There is no specific treatment for respiratory infections caused by the cold viruses. Most remedies are aimed at relief of symptoms and prevention of complications. Bed rest, the salicylates, salt water gargles, and adding moisture to the room atmosphere are old but good recommendations. A physician should be consulted when symptoms are severe.

VAN DELLEN

MOST OF OUR modern cold remedies are shotgun mixtures, aimed at all the different symptoms. They contain an antihistamine plus a sympatheticomimetic agent such as ephedrine or phenolephrine to relieve nasal stuffiness and lessen secretions. Aspirin is added along with an anti-tussive to ease cough—even if it is not present.

Most of the chemicals in these newer cold remedies were not in existence 20 years ago. Some of our patients swear by them, whereas others prefer the old fashioned cough medicines. Furthermore, there is no sense in taking all purpose mixtures when they contain components directed against symptoms that are absent. Why pay for a cough suppressant if there is no cough, or for aspirin when there is no pain? This is the reason why many physicians prefer a tailor-made prescription to relieve the patient's complaints.

THE ANTIBIOTICS and sulfas have no effect on viruses but may help prevent complications. Studies on children have shown that those receiving the wonder drugs remain sick longer. This usually takes place because of inadequate dosages. On the other hand, the antibiotics and sulfas are useful when sore throats, nasal congestion, or bronchitis is caused by bacteria such as the streptoccoci and staphylococci.

(Dr. Van Dellen will answer questions on medical topics if stamped, self-addressed envelope accompanies request.)

INFECTION OF BRAIN

L. H. R. writes: What is the treatment of viral encephalitis?

REPLY

We rely upon bed rest and aspirin because there is no specific remedy against the causative virus.

TRANSFUSIONS

L. M. writes: A friend of mine is in the hospital with cirrhosis of the liver. He has had four transfusions in six days. Why is blood needed in this disease?

REPLY

Transfusions are needed when there is bleeding from enlarged veins at the lower end of the esophagus, or when the victim needs protein.

GLANDULAR OBESITY

J. H. writes: What is the cure for hypothalamic obesity?

REPLY

A low caloric diet plus determination and will power. The hypothalamus is said to contain a center that governs our appetite. It sounds more impressive to blame the brain instead of self-indulgence.

Fastest draw in Marin County

Retailers are literally the speed-merchants of business. For merchandise must MOVE NOW... TODAY. Profits, volume—all depend on speed of merchandise movement. (And headaches come if it doesn't).

But customers don't move to a store because it wants them. They read the ads, think, compare values, analyze them—BEFORE THEY ACT.

Right there is your clue to IMMEDIATE SALES. The closer your advertising medium fits your need for speed, for rapid response, the closer you are to sales success. Get the impact, make the sale.

Here in Marin County more customers are moved to IMMEDIATE ACTION by the Independent-Journal than by any other advertising medium. But don't take our word for it. Ask Macy's, Wards, Penney's, Ames Ford, Eggers Nursery, Value World, Froghorn... to name a few.

And don't settle for the fact, settle for the reasons. Is it because people want to read the I-J? (For women, advertising is the second best-read feature in the paper!) Answer: partly.

Is it because the I-J gives more coverage, reaches more families, than any other medium—66.7% of all homes in Marin? Partly.

It is because the I-J intimately covers the news of each and every community in Marin County? Partly.

Is it because small neighborhood newspapers lack the I-J's comprehensive news coverage which brings added readership to your advertising? Partly.

You're beginning to get the picture. All these things have a direct bearing on advertising effectiveness . . . on creating the IMMEDIATE SALE. The medium that has GREATER ACCEPTANCE on all scores brings GREATER ACCEPTANCE of your advertising... the rapid response you want.

Other media try. The I-J delivers. Circulars, small neighborhood papers, radio, TV—they try. But ask yourself: Did you ever pay good money for a circular and WANT to read it? Can you examine and "re-read" a radio or TV commercial? Neither can your customers.

With the I-J you have the biggest VOLUNTARY AUDIENCE in Marin County—35,271 homes, 84,560 readers. And there's your clue: VOLUNTARY READERSHIP... an audience that's more than meeting you half way because they LIKE TO READ ADVERTISING in a medium they LIKE.

This explains why the Independent-Journal produces the FASTEST DRAW IN MARIN COUNTY for any kind of retail outlet.

VITAL CIRCULATION IN THE I-J

- Circulation up 9.5% in one year—now 35,271 . . . ABC Publisher's Statement, March 31, 1964.
- More daily circulation in Marin than the S.F. Chronicle and Examiner combined.
- Circulation growing faster than population.
- 95% home delivered.

Moscow Digging Out Of Blizzard

About 2,000 workers were clearing main streets, loading the snow which fell yesterday into 2,000 trucks which dumped their loads into the Moscow River.

The newspaper Soviet Russia said it would take about 10 days of round-the-clock work to clear the main streets.

Belgians Order Ship Strike Halt

The government last night ordered the strikers to return to their duties on the locks, bridges and tugs in the municipally operated port or face jail terms. It said negotiations on pay raises demanded by the strikers would continue and the government would assist.

Thestrike by 600 harbor workers had threatened 11,000 workers in the Antwerp area with unemployment.

India Will Ration City's Residents

NEW DELHI, India (AP)—Strict rationing of essential foodstuffs will begin next month for New Delhi's 3 million people, an official spokesman said today.

The rationing is the result of the acute food crisis through which this nation of 480 million people has been passing during the past few months.

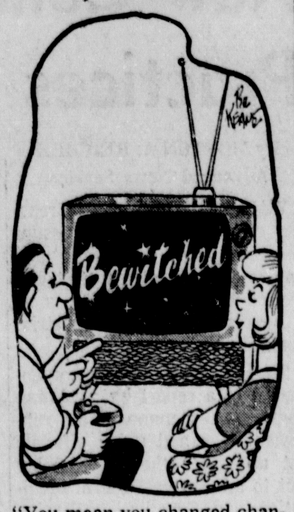

Bishop's Downfall At British Rite

ST. ALBANS, England (AP) — When the Rt. Rev. Albert John Trillo, 49, Anglican bishop of Bedford, blessed the county fire headquarters he finally fell to a temptation resisted since boyhood.

Grasping the firemen's turnout pole firmly with arms and legs, he slid sedately to the ground.

Water Unit To Acquire Office Land

The district seeks two thirds of an acre immediately north of its corporation yard, owned by Louis Garaventa. Several months negotiation with Garaventa have brought no agreement.

The board approved an amendment to the utilities agreement with the State Division of Highways for replacement of water mains across Highway 101 at Hamilton Air Force Base, giving the district an additional $21,681.

It approved an extension agreement with Novato Unified School District for water service with Novato Unified School District for water service to Pleasant Valley School.

It postponed until Jan. 19, any action on an agreement for an easement on Maestro Road with Paul and Marie Brindel, and agreement with John S. Boles, architect, to draw plans for the new district offices.

New Small Radio Receiver Might Help Paraplegics

By CHARLES SCHAFFER
Advance News Service

WASHINGTON—A half-dollar sized radio receiver operating under the skin may lower the risk of deadly infection among paraplegics — victims who have lost the use of their legs by war, accidents or nerve disease.

The experimental device is designed to speed discharge of dammed-up fluids which create infections often involving the kidneys. Today, more than half of the deaths in paraplegics with spinal cord injury are due to urinary-tract complications.

Not surprisingly, highway accidents have displaced war as the No. 1 crippler, accounting for an estimated 26 per cent of current cases. Polio, falls, work injuries and disease such as multiple sclerosis, meningitis and spinal tumors are to blame, too.

Many paraplegics are unable to empty their bladders adequately of waste. The stored-up fluid raises the risk of infection. This is increased, too, when doctors have to use tubes repeatedly to drain off the wastes.

Drs. Adrian Kantrowitz and Martin Schauman, of Maimonides Hospital and the State University of New York, say they have used radio signals to void the bladders of Paraplegic dogs and several volunteer patients. The device, developed jointly with the Avco-Everett Research Laboratory, is not generally available.

If it continues to perform up to expectations in further clinical trials, the device will constitute a "significant advance" in managing urinary complications, says the current issue of heart research news, published here by the national heart institute. The institute is supporting the research.

The bladder stimulation unit is implanted under the skin of the lower abdomen. Two stainless steel wires extending from the receiver are implanted in the bladder muscle that governs voiding.

A Veterans Administration medical spokesman says the agency is watching the progress of the device "with interest." Doctors have tried it on a number of paraplegic veterans, but they believe it is far from perfect.

The spokesman said VA physicians have been unable to make key muscles contract and relax in proper sequence.

Thai Reds Increase Subversive Actions

BANKKOK, Thailand (AP)—Subversive Communist activity along Thailand's northeastern border with Laos has been stepped up, with emphasis on radio propaganda, Foreign Minister Thanat Khoman said today.

The foreign minister told a news conference the government had "noticed more activities" by a clandestine radio station which beams programs in the Thai language into the northeast, a poor, underdeveloped area. He said more Communist activity has been observed along the Mekong River border with Laos.

Parent-Teacher Course Offered

A University of California Extension course in parent-teacher relations will be offered to Marin County teachers at College of Marin starting Feb. 8, the university announced.

Psychiatric social worker Elizabeth A. Sousa will teach the course. She will examine the importance of cooperation between the child's home and school.

TELEVISION REVIEW

Be A Hillbilly— It Really Pays Off

Television In Review
By RICK DU BROW

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — To be or not to be a hillbilly on television is no longer the question, if you like a good rating. There is "The Beverly Hillbillies," and "No Time For Sergeants," and Andy Griffith (almost a hillbilly), and "Petticoat Junction," and "Gomer Pyle." And none of these shows is in danger of being canceled for lack of popularity.

Whether 'tis nobler in the minds of men for an actor to be anything else but a hillbilly on television is entirely missing the point, if one enjoys the prospects of annuities and servants and magazine covers and new cars every year and other pleasantries. Take, for instance, the case of Jim Nabors, formerly of the Griffith series, now starring as a hillbilly Marine recruit in "Gomer Pyle"—a smash ratings hit. Jim can sing opera and is reported to be a rousing nightclub performer, but that's all small potatoes as opposed to being a successful video hillbilly.

While it is true that Elizabeth Montgomery is undoubtedly the new female star of television this season in "Bewitched," it seems to this viewer that Nabors is possibly an even greater popular hit when one considers the inferior scheduling position his show has — and yet how it is running almost neck-and-neck with "Bewitched."

"Bewitched" airs on Thursdays, a good viewing night according to the ratings samplers. It is preceded on ABC-TV by the long - running Donna Reed show and "My Three Sons," and is followed by another hit, "Peyton Place." "Gomer Pyle," on the other hand, airs on Fridays, a notoriously bad viewing night. Earlier in the season, it was preceded by "The Entertainers," now shifted to Saturdays, and followed by "The Reporter," now canceled by CBS-TV — and neither, obviously, good ratings-getters. At present, it is preceded by "On Broadway Tonight" and followed by "Slattery's People" — and neither of these is strong in the ratings either.

Still, "Gomer Pyle" seems to continue in a strong third ratings position, behind "Bonanza" and "Bewitched." On a strictly numerical basis, it appears to be the real new smash popular show of the year, and Nabors the biggest new star.

THE CHANNEL SWIM: Eve Arden guests with CBS-TV's Red Skelton Tuesday ... Ann Sothern appears on the same network's "Lucy Show" for four straight weeks starting Feb. 1, and may turn out to be the replacement for the series' retiring Vivian Vance ... Point Reyes Youth Job Camp Asked

A request has been made to federal officials to set up a Youth Corps job camp at the Point Reyes National Seashore.

The proposal came to light at Tuesday's session of the Marin County board of Supervisors, when County Administrator Alan Bruce reported on it.

Fred W. Binniewies, superintendent of the national seashore, today said he had applied for the camp several weeks ago, but had received no reply yet from Washington. The Youth Corps program, part of the government's "war on poverty," is just getting underway.

Proposed is a camp with 50 to 100 youths in the 16 to 21 age group, including many school drop-outs. They would combine work in conservation with further education, Binniewies said.

The camps would not take delinquents, he said. Other details, such as whether the youths would be from Marin or other parts of the nation, are not yet known.

Tshombe Trying To Sway Foes

LEOPOLDVILLE the Congo (AP) — Premiere Moise Tshombe has invited the leaders of Algeria, Ghana, Mali and Egypt—all avowed supporters of the Congolese rebels—to meet him in Stanleyville and see for themselves atrocities committed by the rebels.

"Come and hear the stories of massacres and torture," Tshombe said yesterday on his return from a brief visit to the former rebel capital.

Adult Art Show Slated Saturday

An art show, sponsored by the adult art class of the Marin Community Center, has been scheduled from 7:30 to 10 p.m. Saturday at the center, 775 Miller Creek Road.

Painters whose work will be shown include Maggie Lietner, Adrea Hendrick, Jerry Huff and Carla Flood.

An early pioneer in paperback books was a Venetian, Aldus Manutius, who issued a pocket series of classics in 1501. Softcover books flourished in the 19th Century. The Tauchnitz Editions of Leipzig issued more than 5,000 English and American titles for German readers.

Rapid Transit Due New Head

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Retiring Kenneth H. Hoover will be replaced as San Francisco Bay Area Rapid Transit District director of development and operations by Stanley D. Forsythe.

Forsythe, a specialist in transit planning, was named yesterday to succeed Hoover, who is retiring at 65. Forsythe takes the post February 1.

Marin Youth Orchestra Concert Set

The Marin Youth Orchestra, directed by Hugo Rinaldi, will give its winter concert Sunday at 7:30 p.m. in Angelico Hall on the Dominican College campus in San Rafael.

Soloists will be clarinetist Mike Wellen, who will play Mozart's Clarinet Concerto, and pianist Marilyn Turner, who will play Saint-Saens' Piano Concerto in G. The orchestra will perform works by Schubert, Bizet and Copeland.

Marilyn is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Graham Turner of San Rafael, and Mike is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Wellen of San Rafael.

LBJ Sending Messages To Congress

WASHINGTON (AP) — Four presidential messages will go to Congress at the rate of one a day starting next Tuesday, the White House has announced.

Press secretary George E. Reedy announced this schedule:

Tuesday, Jan. 12, education. Johnson is proposing an expanded program that will aid both public and private schools and involve an extra $1.5 billion of spending.

Wednesday, Jan. 13, immigration. The administration wants to wipe out the old system of quotas based on national origin and emphasize special skills and knowledge.

Thursday, Jan. 14, foreign aid. Johnson did not touch on this in his State of the Union message to Congress and he is under pressure from some key men on Capitol Hill to split the program into several packages.

Friday, Jan. 15, space. The space program is being trimmed to some extent without dropping the aim of getting a man on the moon by 1970.

The first of a series of special messages spelling out programs Johnson mentioned in Monday's address will be placed before Congress tomorrow. The White House says it will be a comprehensive message dealing with health, and embracing, among other things, a renewed bid for health aid for the elderly under Social Security.

Auto Smog Devices To Be Radio Topic

Lester E. Jennings Jr. of Corte Madera and Lars Williamson of Tamalpais Valley will discuss automobile smog devices over radio station KPFA at 9:30 p.m. tomorrow.

Jennings and Williamson are coordinators of the Citizens for Sensible Smog Suppression, a group which opposes the mandatory installation of crankcase devices on used cars.

Fairfax Rec Program Urged

The Fairfax Park and Recreation Commission Tuesday night recommended that the city council approve the city's spring recreation program, including a series of judo classes.

Commissioners also recommended that Nyal D. Worsham continue to head the program.

Also sent to the council was a recommendation that needed repairs be made to the council was a recommendation that needed repairs be made to the city pavillion, with hopes that the Fairfax Lions Club and Fairfax School District will share in the cost, which is not yet known.

Noting that some citizens had objected to plans for planting liquid ambar trees in the city parkade, commissioners held the matter over to their next meeting to consider choosing a different tree.

By MORTON A. REICHEK
Advanced News Service

WASHINGTON — The increasing complexity of labor issues requires that employers and unions experiment with new collective bargaining practices as a means of reducing industrial conflict.

That is the major recommendation in a report by a 12-man committee of management representatives and union officials set up under the Taft-Hartley Act to advise the Federal Meditation and Conciliation Service (FMCS) on methods to settle labor disputes.

Without proposing any radically different bargaining techniques, the committee urges wider use of plans conceived by management and labor—or devised by third-party mediators—in the steel, auto, electrical manufacturing, meatpacking, and longshore industries.

The essence of all these plans is the creation of a joint labor-management group to provide a forum for continuous and more leisurely study of critical, long-range problems away from the crisis atmosphere of a strike deadline.

"Crisis bargaining has too frequently ended in a series of temporary accommodations to high visibility conflicts, leaving their underlying causes often untouched, unresolved, and undiminished," the committee's report said.

To replace this sort of labor "settlement," the committee endorses the concept of exploring and solving labor-management problems during the intervals between contract negotiations before the issues reach critical proportions.

The committee also puts in a plug for FCMS, urging greater use of the agency's mediation services by companies and unions. The recommendation is in line with a theme FMCS is pushing, that "mediation assistance is not government intervention in bargaining."

On its own, FMCS has been trying to encourage continuing labor - management discussion and joint study of industrial problems under its program of "preventive mediation."

This is a policy in which mediators volunteer their services to labor and management representatives well before the approach of a strike deadline or the development of a negotiating crisis.

The emergence of such technical issues as automation and elaborate health and welfare arrangements — all highly complicated matters requiring prolonged study — has made traditional bargaining procedures impractical, the committee says.

Among the experimental bargaining plans favorably cited in the committee's report are the steel industry's "human relations committee" and the auto industry's "joint study group."

Not surprisingly, the committee does not mention that the joint study approach failed to head off the auto industry's recent strikes over local plant conditions and that the concept figures prominently in a serious steelworkers union political squabble.

The internal union dispute threatens to snag the steel industry's new contract talks. Critics of the union's leadership charge that the industry's joint study committee has de-emphasized the role of local union participation in labor negotiations and has overlooked solution of local plant problems.

Ex-Marinites Survive Floods

A former Woodacre couple now living in Humboldt County, have sent word to let Marin County friends know they have survived floods in their area.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Smith of Holmes wrote that they had lost their home and possessions, but managed to get to a house on a hill, which sheltered them and 10 other families as their homes were swept down the raging Eel River.

Smith formerly worked for the Vaning Tree Service, San Rafael. He and his wife are parents of Mrs. Tony Nunes Jr. of Forest Knolls.
